KELLOGG'S SISTER IS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

DEATH LEADS TO HIS PLEA FOR SAFETY

Asks Chief Howard To Start Campaign For Fewer Accidents

Death of his sister in a traffic accident, coupled with steadily mounting deaths in highway crashes throughout the nation, today prompted George Kellogg, president of the associated chambers of commerce of Orange county to issue a plea that the New Year may be launched with a determined campaign to spend less time in saving the lives of guilty criminals and more in protecting the lives of our best citizens.

Mr. Kellogg's sister, Mrs. Eugene Schenberger, 58, of Lake county, was killed last yesterday on the "speedway" 25 miles south of Bakersfield. She was riding north in a car with her husband when it was struck by a speeding automobile which skidded into the Schenberger machine. Mr. Kellogg today was awaiting details of the fatal crash.

Was On Way Home

Mrs. Schenberger, with her husband, was on her way home to Lower Lake, in Lake county, after spending the Christmas visiting friends and relatives in Southern California.

In addition to Mr. Kellogg she is survived by another sister here, Mrs. S. L. Aubin, 122 Orange avenue. Burial will be at Lancaster on Thursday, Mr. Kellogg said.

Appeals to Chief

In order that his loss may be followed by greater protection for others on the highway, Mr. Kellogg today addressed an appeal to Police Chief Floyd Howard of Santa Ana, recently appointed as chairman of the safety committee of the associated chambers.

He urged Mr. Howard to do his utmost in developing a program which will not only afford protection to the lives of Orange (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 8)

HAWAII'S LAVA FLOW HALTS

HILO, Hawaii, Dec. 31. (AP)—The lava stream from Mauna Loa, which has been menacing Hilo's water supply, apparently was stationary today, about three miles from a water reservoir.

In a sudden spurt last night the flaming liquid rock advanced 600 feet within 20 minutes.

A strip of lava four miles long glowed with great brilliance throughout the night. Volcanologist Thomas A. Jaggar predicted today Mauna Loa's volcanic eruption would end about Jan. 10.

BULLETINS

(By The Associated Press)

FIRE DAMAGES SHIP
NEWPORT, Ore.—Fire broke out aboard the 385-foot inter-coastal lumber carrier Elina today, causing damage estimated by the agents at from $4000 to $5000.

FOUR DIE IN FIRE
REYKJAVIK, Iceland.—Four children and two women were killed to death and 20 other persons injured today when a Christmas tree burst into flames and fired a meeting house.

NEW RIOT AT CAIRO
CAIRO.—New violence flared here today with the opening of the international surgical congress in the Cairo university building. Two British outsiders were roughly handled by a crowd which yelled: "Down with England."

COAL LAW INVALID
KANSAS CITY.—The Guffey coal law was held invalid under the taxing powers of the constitution today by Federal District Judge Albert L. Reeves who declared the tax imposed by the act was "so burdensome and onerous as to destroy the business of the plaintiffs."

'Gambling? None In Seal Beach'

"I never heard of such a thing in Seal Beach!"

Thus spoke Chief of Police Lee Howard and Police Commissioner Tim Hussey of Seal Beach in perfect unanimity when asked by a Journal reporter concerning reports from Los Angeles that "big shot" Main street gamblers had invaded the beach city.

"There's no race-horse bookies around here," Chief Howard said. "At least, I don't know of any."

Both the chief and the commissioner said that an attempt had been made a week ago by an unidentified man to start a book-making agency in a Seal Beach barber shop.

"We shut him up in a hurry," Commissioner Hussey, who runs the State Highway garage, said.

Los Angeles gaming interests also tried to rent the old Seal Beach bank building two weeks ago for the purpose of installing an agency for the Santa Anita races, it was revealed, but a permit was refused them by the city council.

Asked if he planned to investigate the rumors, Chief Howard said: "You should have investigated before you printed the story. We know there's nothing like that here. Why should we investigate a thing we know is false?"

Asked about the gambling tables in the back room of Walker's Nite club, a beach gay-time resort, Commissioner Hussey said: "You have to have a card to get in there. I've never had one, and I've never wanted one. I don't know if they play poker and shoot craps there or not, and I don't want to know."

The Journal reporter made an effort to gain admittance to the back room, but was turned away. A thorough investigation is made of applicants for "membership" cards.

People coming out of the room intimated that they had lost or won, as their stories went. Consensus of opinion, gathered from men behind the bars, dealers (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

COUNTY FARM RECALL VOTE VALUE HIGH SCHEDULED

Area Ranks Second Only To Los Angeles; Mark Put At $171,980,314

Orange county ranks second in the state in value of its farms. It is surpassed only by Los Angeles county. The Orange county value on Jan. 1, 1935, was $171,980,314. These facts were made public today in a preliminary report on the federal farm census, by Director William L. Austin, of the bureau of census, department of commerce.

The number of farms in the county has increased from 4960 in 1930, to 6070 on Jan. 1, 1935, the report said.

"The percentage of farms and ranches in this county operated by owners is unusually high," said the report. "Out of 6070 farms and ranches 4946 were operated by owners, while only 678 were operated by tenants and 466 by managers. The average size of farms and ranches on Jan. 1, 1935, was 51.9 acres and the average value, $28,733. The average value per acre was $545.43."

"The land included in farms and ranches in Orange county amounted to 315,310 acres. Of this land 171,635 acres were in harvest crops in 1934. Only 490 acres failed to produce any crop, while 12,838 acres lay idle or fallow. More than 105,000 acres were used for grazing."

"Livestock in the county on Jan. 1, 1935 consisted of 2713 horses, 1267 mules, 20,289 cattle, 7938 sheep and 15,796 hogs."

KILLED UNDER LOAD OF SAND

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 31. (AP)—David S. Stagno, 23, truck driver, was killed today when he fell under a load of sand he had just delivered.

STREET CAR BECOMES LOST 55 Passengers Go With It

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 31. (AP)—His employers considered providing a map and compass today for a one-man street car operator who got lost with his car for 30 minutes in the maze of downtown tracks, finally discharged 55 passengers to find their own way out, then returned to the wrong car barn.

Some of the passengers noticed the operator had made a wrong turn last night, but he said:

"Just keep calm. I'll get us out of this." Half an hour later nobody was sure where they were. The passengers asked the operator, "Dog-gone if I know," he said. "I'm lost. Let's call it a day."

He let the passengers out and set off for the west side car barn. After a meandering trip through North Minneapolis and over a Mississippi river bridge, he sighted a car barn and turned in.

It was the east side car barn.

Weather to Be Fair for Big Parade

Salient facts on the 47th Annual Tournament of Roses Parade at Pasadena tomorrow:

TIME: Parade starts at 10 o'clock. No parking along parade route and areas near route closed to traffic one-half hour before parade passes.

HOW TO GO: To reach Pasadena from Santa Ana, take U. S. Highway 66 (Whittier boulevard) through Anaheim, Fullerton and Whittier to state highway 19 (San Gabriel boulevard), turning right at this intersection. San Gabriel boulevard goes directly into Colorado avenue, Pasadena.

PARADE ROUTE: Starts at Orange Grove avenue and California streets, goes down Orange Grove to Colorado avenue, thence to Hill street and on Hill to Tournament park where parade will disband and floats will remain on display.

WEATHER: Fair, with seasonable temperatures.

PARADE SIZE: Three miles—longest in history; 1,250,000 persons expected to attend.

PARK OPTION DEADLINE IS EXTENDED

City Given Until Jan. 20 To Act On Plan; Scores Vote 'Yes'

The deadline for Santa Ana's decision on buying a 20-acre park site at Washington and Flower streets was extended today to Jan. 20. At next Monday night's council meeting the city officials are expected to take steps to ask the people for a further expression of their views on the proposed purchase.

At last night's session Mayor Fred Rowland was authorized to negotiate for an extension of the present option, which expires Jan. 3. Those negotiations were completed today.

The council had before it last night the results of a straw ballot conducted in The Journal, starting last Friday, which showed strong sentiment in favor of the park. The vote was 95 to 15 in favor of the purchase at $28,500.

Ready to Vote
Councilmen Joseph P. Smith and Plummer Burns were ready to vote on the question at last night's session.

Councilmen Ernest Layton, William Penn and Mayor Rowland said they believed more time should be given the people to express their views, and Mayor Rowland was authorized to (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

NEW ATTACK ON GOLD CLAUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—A fresh attack on the constitutionality of the act of congress abrogating clauses in contracts calling for payment in gold was filed today with the supreme court.

The appeal was presented by a Colombian concern, Compania de Inversiones Internacionales, which contended that the law did not apply to international transactions between non-residents of the United States.

The action was brought against the Industrial Mortgage Bank of Finland in an effort to recover $5307 on securities instead of the face value of $3135. New York state courts, from which the appeal was filed, denied the larger amount and awarded judgment for the smaller sum.

Journal Not To Publish On New Year's Day

Journal employees will join other Southern folks tomorrow, New Year's day, and take a "day off," to see the 47th annual Tournament of Roses parade, view the Southern Methodist-Stanford football game, trek to Santa Anita race track, Arcadia, to see the horse races, spend the day visiting, or stay at home.

Business houses generally and public offices will be closed the entire day.

CITY ALL SET TO RING IN NEW YEAR

Santa Ana To Observe Holiday; Many Watch Parties Tonight

Anno Domini 1936 marks its farewell hour in Santa Ana and Orange county tonight. The old year will be rung out and the new year in at parties, watch services, dances and midnight matinees.

Mixed with the spirit of new resolutions and a happy year for 1936 will be the spirit of frivolity and gaiety; of optimism for things to come.

Santa Ana has definitely found the upgrade road in 1935. Building permits increased, merchants' turnovers set new records, Christmas buying and giving swelled to the volume of the previous year. The coming year appears to be a happy one.

Night Clubs Close Early
Revelers in cafes and night clubs will only be able to celebrate the occasion until 2 o'clock, however, sheriff's office and police forces said today.

No special rules are being laid down for closing hours on liquor sales. Chief of Police Floyd Howard said today, but cafes and other dispensaries in the city have signified their intention of observing the 2 o'clock closing hour, despite Los Angeles court decisions ruling it illegal.

Sheriff Plans Check
Sheriff Logan Jackson said today that his deputies would check on cafes and roadhouses serving liquor after 2 a. m., and although they would not force them to close, they would report them to (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

F.D.R. TO GIVE OWN MESSAGE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—President Roosevelt put in the closing hours of 1935 today penning a message to congress outlining his program for the nation in the new year.

It was expected an Capitol Hill that Mr. Roosevelt would deliver a personal annual message on the state of the union to the congress convening Friday, either on that day or on Saturday.

SEAMEN VOTING ON NEW OFFER

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—Their proposal rejected, members of the International Seamen's Union voted today whether to accept the offer of ship operators for continuance of the present wage and hour contract. After prolonged negotiations, the contract proposed by the seamen was refused yesterday by the operators, who countered with suggested extension.

Social Security; How It Works

Something new—social security—goes into effect tomorrow in California, as well as in the United States. How will it work? The following is the first of a series of articles answering that question.—Editor.

By ROCH BRADSHAW

All at once, with the coming of the New Year, Santa Ana merchants and other employers are faced with a new problem—unemployment insurance.

The federal government has enacted an unemployment insurance program. The state of California has adopted a similar measure providing for joint functioning of the two projects. Employers are to be taxed to provide the funds with which to finance part of the social security program.

TAX WILL GO ON BALLOT

Petitions Qualify For Vote In November On State Income Levy

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Initiative petitions seeking repeal of California's new income tax law qualified today at the secretary of state's office assuring a vote upon the controversial revenue measure at the general election next November.

Frank Jordan, secretary of state, said the petitions carried 195,844 signatures of registered voters. A total of 186,378 was necessary.

The last petitions needed to put the issue before the voters were filed shortly after 9 a. m. by the California Citizens, an organization headed by Dr. Leroy H. Briggs, San Francisco, and David R. Faries, Los Angeles.

The first petitions were filed several weeks ago. One of them, containing more than 100,000 signatures, was the largest single document ever received at the secretary of state's office.

Three other tax measures also will be balloted upon at the November election. An initiative petition upon the sales tax qualified more than a year ago, and referendum petitions upon the chain store and oleomargarine taxes were completed last September.

The income tax was passed by the 1935 legislature and is expected to return about $20,000,000 a bi-annum. The rates range from 1 per cent of $1000 of net taxable income to 15 per cent on $250,000 a year and more.

The organizations attacking it asserted it would drive wealth out of the state, retard business recovery, damage the income of the small salaried man and also imposed inequitable rates.

Clear, cold weather prevailed over most of the upper half of the United States today. A part of the western plain was in a low pressure area, however, that brought overcast skies and possibility of more snow.

Atlanta still was partly crippled by the localized sleet storm that began Saturday night, and snow was expected there. Deeper in the south rain and slowly rising temperatures were forecast.

The East was expected to be covered by a new blanket of snow, with clouds accompanying slowly rising temperatures.

President of Women Voters In Santa Ana Favors State Control of Liquor Problem

(Editor's note—What of the liquor problem in California? Where are we heading? Back to prohibition, say many. Included in this number are some who are not radical on the subject. Should the control of the business be taken away from the state board of equalization? Are state-controlled liquor stores desirable? These and scores of other questions are to be answered in a series of articles in The Journal, of which this is the fifth. Opinions will be largely those of Santa Ana and Orange county citizens, expressed on both sides of the controversial liquor question.)

By BOB GUILD

Mrs. Ora K. Heine, president of the Santa Ana League of Women Voters, favors neither local option nor local control of the liquor trade.

"I have lived here all my life," she said yesterday, "and I have seen local option tried in Santa Ana, in pre-prohibition days. It failed. It is essentially not a fair law. Those who wanted to drink went to Anaheim, which had voted wet, and which got the

TRIO HURRIES AWAY UNDER PROTECTION

Police Escort Whisks Famed Family Into Liverpool Hotel

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press) LIVERPOOL, Dec. 31.—The Charles A. Lindberghs, declared by members of the crew of their ship to have left the United States to avoid the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann, landed here today after a rough trans-Atlantic trip and went into immediate seclusion in a hotel suite in the heart of Liverpool.

They dashed down the gangplank of the steamer American Importer, which carried no other passengers and, escorted by a carload of detectives, drove directly to the Adelphi hotel.

Flee to Rooms
There, the famous flier, his wife and their 3-year-old son, Jon, passed swiftly through the lobby without registering and went directly to their rooms.

Even the numbers of the hotel rooms were kept secret.

Friends and associates of Colonel Lindbergh, since he left America, have given as one reason for his departure that he wanted his second son to grow up in normal fashion and have said that he intended to establish a home in England, but retaining his American citizenship to remain there as long as he considers it necessary to insure his family privacy and protection from threats.

Avoided Execution
It also was suggested that he wanted to be away during Hauptmann's scheduled execution and that activities of Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey in the Hauptmann case had disappointed Lindbergh.

The American Importer, arriving off its Gladstone dock in the Mersey river at an early hour this morning, lay at anchor until 11 a. m.

Then a tug puffled up by the side of the vessel and started it through the locks.

In the middle of the first lock, the ship unexpectedly was tied up (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

RE-GRANT FUNDS FOR LAGUNA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Reinstatement of two allotments for sanitary sewer projects at Laguna Beach, Calif., was announced today by the Public Works administration.

One allotment was for $20,481; the other for $44,764.

PWA officials said the allotments had been reinstated upon receipt of assurances the projects could be gotten under way immediately.

MUSSOLINI GIVES ASSURANCE OF 'NEW CONQUEST' IN AFRICA

RESCUE UNIT BOMBED BY FASCISTS

Ethiopian Ambulance Squad Massacred In Italian Air Raid

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
ROME, Dec. 31.—Fascist Italy envisaged calmly today a likelihood of heightened strife and increased bloodshed in Ethiopia.

Fascists expressed satisfaction that Premier Mussolini's review of the military operations refuted critics of the northern army for its failure to advance beyond Makale.

Il Duce told his cabinet yesterday the apparent stall since the capture of Makale on Nov. 8 was "absolutely indispensable" for consolidation of occupied positions and to "facilitate" future movements of several hundred thousand men.

Fascists accepted this analysis as an assurance of a "new conquest" once the task of consolidation has been completed, despite a sharper Ethiopian opposition which caused the deaths of nearly 500 white and native troops and 14 officers in the last month.

The alleged slaughter of a Swedish-Ethiopian ambulance unit of 32 by Italian aerial bombs was reported to Addis Ababa today by the high Ethiopian command on the Southern African front.

Ras Desta Demtu, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie, wireless his capital that nine Swedes and 23 Ethiopians, making up the ambulance unit, had died in an aerial bombardment near Dolo, on the Ethiopian-Italian Somaliland frontier.

In the north, the Italian invaders moved up reinforcements in anticipation of a long drawn-out campaign and it appeared the old year would go out to the crack of rifle fire.

Rifles were cocked and bayonets fixed along 80 miles of jagged mountainous front, extending from Makale, forward to the point of the Fascist line, northwest toward the holy city of Aksum.

Italian authorities announced nearly 500 white and native troops and 14 Italian officers have died during the last month. As many more were wounded. The Ethiopian losses were estimated by Fascists at 4000 dead and double that number wounded.

in the tango parlors and chip games, and men on the streets, was that they "didn't know nothing."

That's one of the nice things about Seal Beach. Everyone agrees that nobody knows anything, and if they did, they wouldn't tell.

No investigation of the gambling rumors is planned by the city council.

"You get a warrant to enter and search," Commissioner Hussey said, "and it will be up to Sheriff Jackson to do something about it. I just live here. I don't know anything about it."

Mayor Elmer J. Hughes, sought for a statement, could not be found. He was out of town while grand jury reports from Los Angeles "blew the lid off" his city.

In Santa Ana Sheriff Logan Jackson asked not to be quoted on the question. Yesterday he said he would investigate immediately.

American, British and French newspapermen followed the machine from the pierhead.

They had expected the route to lead to either Wales or Scotland, but instead it cut directly into the heart of Liverpool, and to the hotel.

Had Plane Ready
A crew member said the Lindberghs had been good sailors during the rough trip, and had not been seasick.

Some of the crew understood Lindbergh had a plane standing by at an undisclosed airport in the British Isles until last night, when orders for the plane were cancelled.

Others said they believed Mrs. Lindbergh, who rarely left Jon alone in the cabin, tasted all the boy's food before feeding him.

Many wireless messages were addressed to the colonel on shipboard, including one from a British newspaper offering £250 sterling ($1250) for a 1000 word statement.

This relative said the Lindberghs would stay there "for some time." The flier and his family would be the guests of J. L. Morgan in Llandaff, near Cardiff.

L. Morgan is the father of Aubrey, the widower husband of Mrs. Lindbergh's sister, Elisabeth, who died last December in California.

WEST TO STUDY POLICE NEED

Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach was designated today by the board of supervisors as a committee to see what can be done about police protection at San Juan Capistrano. A delegation headed by Clarence Brown today requested the supervisors to see what could be done toward raising the $25 monthly salary of Constable Jack Combs. The spokesman said Mr. Combs has rendered excellent service and devoted much time to his work, but that unless some way can be found to increase his salary, it is doubtful if he will be able to continue.

Supervisor W. C. Jerome explained that a constable is elected and that the law does not allow increase in an elective officer's salary while he is in office. It was suggested that a district might be formed to provide for law enforcement and that perhaps some arrangement might be made where the San Juan Capistrano sanitary district could assist in this regard.

WOMAN DIES OF RECENT BURNS

Mrs. Irma M. Patin, 38, Anaheim, succumbed early today at the Orange county hospital to burns sustained Dec. 18, when her nightgown caught fire from an open stove while she was playing with her children at her home. Mrs. Patin was not taken to the hospital until Dec. 27 when her condition became serious as the result of infection.

Mrs. Patin, a native of Germany, had been a resident of Anaheim since 1921. She is survived by her husband, Thaddeus Patin; 10 children, eight boys and two girls; a sister, Mrs. Olga Frye, Fellows, Cal., and a brother, Joseph, Fellows.

Recitation of the rosary will be held at the Backs, Terry and Campbell mortuary in Anaheim at 7 p. m., Thursday. Requiem high mass will be sung in St. Boniface Catholic church, Anaheim, at 9 a. m., Friday with burial in Holy Sepulchre cemetery. There will be no inquest.

TRABUCO FOREST AREA RE-OPENED TO PUBLIC

Watershed areas in the Trabuco district of the Cleveland National Forest again have been thrown open to the public following the long period of the summer months when all areas were closed.

This announcement was made today by Patrolman Harvey French of the U. S. Forest service, Silverado canyon.

"Recent rainfall and rising humidity is rapidly bringing this year's fire season to a close," Mr. French said. "Once again the areas in the district will be thrown open to the public with smoking restrictions lifted for the remainder of the winter months."

In making his announcement, Mr. French said there have been no fires during the winter months in the past, and for that reason he urged campers and tourists to be particularly cautious while in the fire areas.

CHAMBER ELECTS MEETING DELEGATES

The Santa Ana chamber of commerce Monday was requested to send delegates to the associated chambers of commerce meeting, Jan. 27 at Fullerton, and designated W. E. Baker, E. B. Sharpley and John Kelly to attend the meeting.

A proposed new constitution and by-laws for the organization will be discussed at that time. Although the Santa Ana chamber resigned from the associated body some months ago, the resignation never was accepted.

SARDINE CATCH FIGURES FIXED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (AP) Herbert Davis, executive officer of the fish and game commission, announced Monday that permits had been granted to 21 fishing companies to catch 100,000 tons of sardines outside the three-mile limit.

L. Morgan is the father of Aubrey, the widower husband of Mrs. Lindbergh's sister, Elisabeth, who died last December in California.

114 DEATHS HANDLED DURING YEAR BY CORONER'S OFFICE

The Orange county coroner's office this year handled a total of 114 cases, according to an annual report compiled by Coroner Earl R. Abbel today. The report shows that there have been 60 deaths in Orange county as the result of traffic accidents, with 13 of them caused by cars skidding and 12 of them caused by cars striking pedestrians. There were 14 killed in accidents involving two or more cars.

Suicides during 1935 totaled 31. Twenty-two of the suicides were men and nine were women. Five men took their own lives by drowning, five by poison, five by hanging, seven by using guns, one with carbon monoxide and one by inhaling illuminating gas. Three women committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas, two by hanging, one by strangulation, one by carbon monoxide gas, one by the use of a gun and one by poison.

Included among the miscellaneous deaths were one each for abortion, accidental drowning, suffocation, tractor back-firing, acute idiosyncrasy to novocain, head injuries while playing football, and one from head injuries while resisting an officer. One was killed as the result of a fall from a truck, one was struck by a train and two died from burns. There was only one homicide in the county during the year.

the state board of equalization for action.

Fred Sidebottom, Santa Ana representative of the board of equalization, said that any places in Orange county not observing the closing rule would be hailed before the board "to show cause why their license should not be revoked."

Banks, public offices, the post-office and business houses will be closed tomorrow, observing the legal holiday.

Watch Services
At hundreds of Santa Ana homes gay parties will watch the passing of the year. Watch services will be conducted for other hundreds who will bow in the new year at church rites.

At the Spurgeon Memorial church, services will begin at 8 o'clock. Special choir music, a New Year's "Palestine program," address by the pastor and a consecration service will be included in the program.

Members of county Foursquare Gospel churches and those of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will combine for watch services, at the Alliance church, from 8 to 9 o'clock, and at the Foursquare Gospel church from then to midnight.

Townsend Clubs Meet
Special services will be held at 7 o'clock at the Trinity Lutheran church, and at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, Epworth League of the county will gather at the First Methodist church for a first party, commencing at 8:30 o'clock.

Townsend club members will assemble at the Richland Avenue Methodist church at 6:30 o'clock for an oyster supper, to be followed by a program of social activities featuring orchestra and vocal music, and talks by J. L. Davis and the Rev. Walter Scott Buchanan.

A frolic will be held at the Masonic temple, under the auspices of the Silver Cord lodge; the annual Joe Delaney and John's Daughters dance will be held at the Palmers ballroom, and the Calumet camp and auxiliary, United Spanish War veterans, will give a party at the K. of C. hall.

Midnight Show
The Broadway theater will hold a special midnight matinee, unless the crowd overflows, in which event a similar affair will be held at the West Coast theater.

Special programs will be featured at roadhouses and cafes outside Santa Ana. In Balboa the annual American Legion New Year's dance will attract thousands of merry-makers. Seal Beach, San Clemente, Laguna Beach will hold open house for pleasure seekers.

All Santa Ana and Orange county will bid the old year farewell with a blare of horns and music, of laughter and song, and with a spirit of thanks for the good things it has brought.

PLANES SEEKING MISSING PILOT

MARCH FIELD, Riverside, Dec. 31. (AP) Six pursuit planes from March field and six bombing planes from Hamilton field, Martin county, were searching today for Lieut. John T. Helms, missing army air corps officer.

Field operations officers here said that Helms was on a 7-15 o'clock last night in a flight with a single seater pursuit plane from Hamilton field. Belief was expressed that he had been forced down.

SUICIDE TRIED BY BOY, 13

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31. (AP) Bobby DeVoe, 13, told police today that he said that a bunch of flowers reminded him of his dead mother and he sought to join her by hanging. His unconscious form was found last night hanging from a tree bough near the trailer in which his father, Eugene DeVoe, and brother and sister came from Royal Oak, Mich. The father explained that Mrs. DeVoe, the boy's mother, died by suicide at Royal Oak in May last year.

which is acting as a clearing house for the state.

The federal law provides that in states having unemployment insurance acts, 90 per cent of the federal tax collected for this purpose shall remain within the state. California's legislature passed such a law at the last session.

Thus business people will pay taxes to two agencies in financing the program. The federal returns will be made to the bureau of internal revenues, and state returns to the state unemployment reserves commission.

The federal tax of 1 per cent on payrolls becomes effective for 1936 and will be collected in 1937. It will increase by one-half of 1 per cent every three years until it reaches 3 per cent in 1949. It will remain at that figure.

The state law provides that during 1936 the employer shall pay nine-tenths of 1 per cent of his payroll for support of the state program. In 1937 it will be 1.8 per cent. During 1938 it will be 2.71 per cent.

Under the state program, beginning Jan. 1, each employer will contribute one-half of 1 per cent

FAIR WEATHER INVALIDATES MANY RAIN GUESSERS

Four guessers in The Journal two-inch rain contest fell by the wayside today, as time invalidated their predications as to the day and hour our next two-inch rain would begin to fall.

They and their guessers were: Gregory Solis, 110 Flora, Dec. 30, 10 a. m.; Raoul Solis, 119 Flora, Dec. 30, 11 a. m.; Mrs. Minnie Omallia, 1015 West Fifth, Dec. 30, 12 noon; Eugene Kelley, 715 Spurgeon, Dec. 30, 10 p. m.

There are still 27 guessers left in good standing in the competition, their guesses ranging from today to March 13, 1936.

And still the skies are cloudless. A good drenching rain for Orange county seems as far away as ever.

Get your guesses in to The Journal Rain Editor, by mail, phone or in person. Rain, says the official forecaster, will begin to fall any day. An umbrella awaits the one who guesses closest to the day and time the two-inch rain begins.

MORE ABOUT PARK SITE

got for more time on a motion by Mr. Layton.

The discussion began to sparkle when Councilman Penn said that whatever is spent on a park will be for more or less of a luxury and not a necessary function. He said the council would be taking a chance if it bought a park without a vote of the people to back it up.

Were No Protests
"We just voted $3000 last Monday night to buy an additional space for the Santiago parkway," shot back Councilman Smith, "and there haven't been any protests against the money we've agreed to furnish a site for an armory, and where are we going to put it?"

Mr. Penn replied that the three acres required for the armory could be secured at some other point and the city would not be required to spend money for maintenance, as it would on a park.

Mr. Smith later replied that he believes it will cost $10,000 or $12,000 to get a three-acre armory site at an acceptable location.

Bruno Speaks Up
Councilman Bruno entered the discussion with the declaration that Anaheim has perhaps the most beautiful park in this section, that it represents an investment of about $300,000 and costs money to maintain, "and yet they are very cheerful, have started to develop another park and are going to provide an armory site." Mr. Bruno referred also to the Orange and Fullerton parks and stressed the advertising value of these projects.

"Santa Ana is the only city of its size in Southern California that hasn't a good park," Mr. Bruno said. "It seems to me the added expense would be more than covered by drawing people here to live and bringing added business to the merchants."

Mayor Rowland suggested the idea of giving the people a chance to express their views further, by sending out return postal cards on which they could vote. It is anticipated that some system of this kind will be approved next Monday night.

Letters Indorse Park
Two letters came before the council last night indorsing the park purchase proposal, one from the 20-30 club, signed by John Lutz, Jr., president, and the other from the Church of Jesus Christ, Latter Day Saints, signed by J. B. Sandstrom, president of the board.

City Auditor Lloyd Banks reported that money for the purchase would have to come from the unappropriated reserve fund, which includes surpluses from all funds, including the water fund. He said water revenue this year apparently will increase and all major revenue apparently will be higher than in the past.

The proposed site at the northwest corner of Washington and Floyer streets is owned by Blanche and Bertha Tiede.

MORE ABOUT LIQUOR

trol of the industry, conducted, however, through state-owned non-profit liquor stores.

"In that way," she said, "I believe we could counteract the 'treating' evil, could keep an accurate check on how much liquor is being sold and to whom, and keep people out of bars and saloons."

She admitted the question is a difficult one.

"The way things are now is not good," she said. "But they were not good under prohibition, either."

Urges No Sidestepping
"It is a definite fact that we cannot stand still. We must change, and we must try to change for the better. How that can be done is not so easy to say, but I don't think we will go back to prohibition. That is sidestepping the problem."

On Jan. 6, she said, the California League of Women Voters will meet, and a discussion of the problem will have a place on the agenda. She said the league had not formulated a formal policy as yet.

"The P. T. A.," Mrs. Heine stated, "is definitely opposed to all forms of liquor, and dedicated to the fight against it, along with the W. C. T. U."

"Our effort will be to find a solution to the problem the way it exists today. I think what we all need is more dissemination of facts concerning the industry, the number of licenses issued, the number of arrests, and statistical financial information from the board of equalization."

Mrs. Heine, though she said "she was not well-informed on the liquor question," closed her remarks with the statement that things are "better now than in pre-prohibition days."

Prohibition, she said, failed in its purpose.

Here Are 2-Inch Rain-Guessers And Their Guesses

of his wages. Beginning Jan. 1, 1937, and thereafter, each employee will contribute 1 per cent of his wages. Each employer shall withhold such contribution from the wages of his employees, shall show such deduction on his payroll records, and shall transmit all such contributions to the fund pursuant to the general rules of the state unemployment reserves commission.

Employers of less than eight persons, and their employees, will not make any contributions, nor will employers or employees engaged in agriculture. Domestic servants are exempt, but all employers must submit records.

First contributions must be made to the state program July 15, for the period starting tomorrow. Benefits begin Jan. 1, 1938.

The ruins of Qaleh i Gabr, or the castle of the fireworshippers, with its underground chambers, stand on a high mound southeast of Kazerun, Persia.

YEAR'S BEST DEB

This Park avenue girl, Miss Virginia T. Hyde, was elected as the "most outstanding debutante of the year" at a fashion presentation at Rockefeller Center, N. Y.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Hyde, she was one of a group of young women who made preliminary debuts at Newport, Southampton and the Berkshires.

Postmaster General Farley went to New York to be with his family after holding a New Year's reception for some of his workers in his offices. The rest of the cabinet will stay home.

Mrs. Garner said the vice president would spend the evening "as he does all others, going to bed early."

ELY OFFERS TO BACK SMITH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Politicians here wondered today whether the offer from former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, of Massachusetts, to support Alfred E. Smith for the 1936 democratic presidential nomination meant the New Yorker would be a candidate against President Roosevelt.

Significance was attached to Ely's offer because he has always been close to Smith, nominated him in 1932, and will accompany the former Democratic presidential candidate to the American Liberty League meeting here Jan. 25.

Ely said he did not know whether Smith would be a candidate, but he said he wanted to pledge his support in case he should be.

FOREST SMOKE BAN LIFTED

Sufficient rain has fallen in the Cleveland National forest to warrant lifting of the "no smoking" band within the state boundaries, as well as on private lands. It was announced today by State Forester Joseph Scherman of Orange, following a survey by Guerdon Ellis, state supervisor for the district.

Private lands affected in this district include the Trabuco canyon and North Palomar areas. Mr. Scherman said. Shovel and ax regulations will not be enforced in the national forest until dry weather again threatens fires, he said.

Mr. Ellis said that in normal years the ban is lifted by Nov. 30, but due to excessive dryness, it was held over until today as a matter of precaution.

FILIPINOS ROAR CHEER FOR '36

MANILA, P. I., Wednesday, Jan. 1, 1936. (AP)—Filipinos roared a wild welcome to New Year's day, the first under their commonwealth government, long before celebrations began in the United States.

Americans celebrated at hotels, clubs and private parties to cheer the New Year at midnight, which was only 8 a. m. Pacific standard time Dec. 31 in America.

NEW YEARS DINNER

AT THE HOME CAFE 304 NORTH BROADWAY
Full Turkey Dinner with All the Trimmings
Continuous Service from 11:30 a. m. to 8 p. m.

ONE DEAD IN GANG WAR

BOSTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Gangster guns cracked twice, killing one man and wounding another, in what police feared today might be the beginning of "a number pool war."

The slain man, James E. Buckley, 26, Police Captain James Sheehan said, had a long police record. Frank T. Sundberg, who had been identified with the numbers racket, was wounded.

A black sedan with red wheels carried Buckley's body late yesterday to the front steps of the New England hospital for women and children, where it was left. The same machine was reported involved in the shooting of Sundberg, near the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, three miles away, some 15 minutes earlier.

NEW YEAR'S EVE IN CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—The leaders of the nation's officialdom will stick close to the home fires tonight waiting for 1936 to make its bow.

In a snow-banked White House, President Roosevelt will remain with his family.

Brick Dust

Here and There With
The Journal's
Rambling County Editor

By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

WELL, this is the last day. Tomorrow, with valves ground and a new coat of paint, we're starting in on a brand new year.

In glancing over our endeavors in the county field, we've remembered lots of things—stories you've perhaps forgotten, or wish you could. Below you'll find something about your community that's made the headlines or has ranked county-wide notice since we started in on May 1. Look 'em over!

May 1: Journal starts publication. FDR and lots of others congratulate management for obtaining services of Brick Gaines.

May 2: Yorba Linda has annual flower show.

May 3: Placentia votes down city hall.

May 11: Final section of Coast highway opened at Laguna.

May 14: Heated rows in Oceanview teacher battle.

May 16: Orange city council moves to open new swimming pool. (They're still at it.)

May 20: Summer weather sends thousands to beaches, believe it or not! Remember that sunburn?

May 21: Coast association rolls up sleeves for fish reserve bill battle.

May 29: Seal Beach seeks $164,000 PWA projects. They got 'em, too.

There's one month. If you can stand any more, hang on!

June 5: Plane tried to enter Costa Mesa home. Falls.

June 7: Newport harbor development reaches half-way mark. Harry Welch cheers!

June 8: Fullerton's Valencia Orange festival proclaimed huge success.

June 12: Survey sites for county fire station at Costa Mesa. (They're still after the station.)

June 13: Valencia High school at Placentia graduates 14 students, 1,400 percent increase.

June 15: Archie Closson, state Legion head, speaks at Flag day exercises at Anaheim.

June 17: Make plans for Balboa Island seaport stages Spanish fiesta. And how!

June 22: C. E. convention opens at Fullerton, 6,000 attending.

June 29: Pirates attack and capture Laguna Beach in fourth annual Festival of Arts.

There, friends, is another month gone by, just like that! Try another.

July 4: Crowds jam beaches, especially Huntington, where celebration is held.

July 8: Seek to enforce altitude law for planes at Costa Mesa. Planes unwelcome in homes!

July 19: $28,000 school bonds voted at Cypress.

July 22: Ben Lieberman, Garden Grove, elected district Legion head. Mrs. Marjorie Peabody, La Habra, heads auxiliary. Start Capistrano campaign for restoration of street names.

July 27: Many take harbor area. Many walk plank!

July 28: Huntington Beach has first annual sports carnival. And so another 30 days went. Remember 'em?

Aug. 3: Brickdust arrives. (Save "boos," please, until we've finished.)

Aug. 4: Fullerton cops kayak regatta at Newport.

Aug. 9: $115,000 Brea-Olinda school bonds approved. Hurrah!

Aug. 13: San Clemente recall move dies, says Mayor Smith.

Aug. 15: Start action for paying of Chapman and Glassell streets in Orange.

Aug. 23: International star boat races at Newport.

Aug. 24: Tournament of Lights attracts throngs to harbor.

Aug. 25: Postoffice dedicated at Orange. Ham Cotton not present.

Aug. 28: Dr. Townsend speaks at Anaheim.

Aug. 31: Black Gold days starts at Huntington Beach. Can you stand another few months? We'll make 'em shorter.

(Sept. 4: Placentia school bonds $150,000) wallowed.

Sept. 9: Annual Westminster pioneer reunion held.

Sept. 16: Gov. Merriam speaks at statue dedication at Anaheim.

Sept. 27: Dedicate El Toro CCC soil erosion camp. Good eats! Buena Park's annual Industrial celebration draws crowds.

Oct. 1: Remove oil curtainment at H. B.

Oct. 7: 2000 attend I. O. O. F. convention at Anaheim.

Oct. 15: Laguna pier bonds ($55,000) take spanking.

Oct. 16: Welcome new bank at Capistrano.

Oct. 23: Start move for incorporation, Costa Mesa.

Oct. 24: Billy Hale new head of League of Municipalities. Orange Rotary club celebrates 14th birthday.

Oct. 31: Anaheim has Halloween party. Everybody goes. Sneaked up, that time! Covered two months!

Nov. 1: New citrus exchange opens at Placentia.

Nov. 5: "Pastor Peeks at Paradise" at Yorba Linda as Rev. Crawford Trotter talks.

Nov. 11: Anaheim again host.

ANTI-GAMBLING LAW IN EFFECT IN BALBOA AREA TONIGHT

OWNERS MAKE PROTEST ON ORDINANCE

Ban Games At Midnight; Committee Named To Investigate

NEWPORT BEACH.—An ordinance prohibiting all gambling games, such as chips, tango, skill-ball, flasher boards, cards and marble boards, adopted last June 11 by the city council, goes into effect here at midnight tonight.

Last night several residents appeared before the city council in protest against enforcement of the ordinance, declaring that it would interfere with their business and property rentals.

The complaints resulted in the council ordering further investigation being made into these particular requests. A committee was named to make this investigation, including Chief of Police R. R. Hodgkinson, City Attorney Roland Thompson and the council's police committee.

Protests were made by E. J. Lewis, representing the Newport Bay Investment company; Ed H. Allen, Victor Lipps and Marguerite MacCulloch.

Final protests against zoning of the city as planned by the Newport harbor planning commission and by L. Deming Tilton were heard. The most important request was made by residents of Corona del Mar who asked that the entire frontage along Coast highway be zoned for business.

Rubeen Tole made a complaint against City Building Inspector A. M. Nelson, declaring that he showed favoritism. The building committee was requested to make an investigation.

BEACH COUPLE WED 62 YEARS

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nichols, 730 Main street, will celebrate their sixty-second wedding anniversary at their home tomorrow. Their children, grandchildren and one great-grandchild will congregate at the Nichols' residence for a family reunion.

Sixty-two years ago, Mr. Nichols and Miss Ella Loretta Soper were married in a little farm in Alden, Ill. For 14 years Mr. Nichols worked his farm until his health failed. He was advised to go to California, and was told that he did not have long to live.

That was almost a half-century ago. They left their farm home and came west. Today he is 80 years of age and is enjoying good health. Mrs. Nichols is his junior by four years.

For a number of years Mr. Nichols was engaged in citrus work at San Dimas, Whittier, Pasadena and Pomona and 13 years ago retired and came to live in Huntington Beach. Both have been active in work of the Methodist church. Gathered around them tomorrow for a big family dinner will be their children; their two sons, George Nichols and wife of Stockton and Arthur Nichols, wife and children of Whittier, and two grandsons, Walter and Albert Nichols and families.

SLATE EL TORO CCC MEETING

EL TORO.—Camp commanders from the March Field district will be guests at the El Toro Veterans Civilian Conservation Corps camp here next Saturday for an all-day meeting, it has been announced.

Commanders from 17 CCC camps in the district will be present at the session, as well as Major W. Walton, district commander, and his staff. Featuring discussion for the day will be betterment of conditions at all camps of the district.

The El Toro camp, from which much work in soil conservation projects in the district, has been improved rapidly since its establishment here in September, with landscaping work announced nearly completed. Living quarters of the men have been improved until the local organization is said to be one of the best equipped in the district.

This time Armistice day.

Oct. 1: Midway City gets fire truck.

No. 22: Welcome new patrol boat at Newport.

Nov. 29: Open Spanish days fiesta at San Clemente. Sea Scout rendezvous held at Newport.

Dec. 7: H. B. postoffice dedicated. Major John Africa wins prize for loudest sock.

Dec. 18: Ed Ainsworth "star-rites" Coast association at yule party.

Dec. 21: Lighthouse completed on jetty at Lighthouse.

Dec. 22: Artists homecoming celebrated at Laguna. Supervisors approve restoration of street names at Capistrano.

Dec. 24: Huntington Beach wins Coast lighting award.

Dec. 27: Midwinter regatta opens at Newport.

Dec. 31: Brickdust wishes everyone a happy new year!

'ACT OF GOD' BABY

Anna Ware, unmarried Philadelphia housemaid, with the baby awarded her by the court of appeals in St. Louis. She claimed the baby was taken from her for adoption shortly after its birth. It was found in the home of Mrs. Nell Muench, middle-aged wife of a doctor, who said it was an "act of God."

COMICS FROLIC TONIGHT Laguna Artists Celebrate

Sea Scouts Plan Return To Bay For Rendezvous

NEWPORT BEACH.—Several hundred Sea Scouts from four western states will come to Newport Harbor again next summer for their annual rendezvous, it was announced at a city council meeting last evening.

A letter was read from T. J. Carlson, Los Angeles, regional Scout executive, in which he thanked city officials for entertaining the boys this fall and accepted the city's invitation to return again next year.

Ray Ramon's orchestra will play for the dancing and an elaborate floor show as well as a midnight supper are planned. A picture by Henri de Kruij, valued at $150, will be given as a door prize.

'EXPLORING' IS MEET THEME PLAN DANCE AT CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—Announcement of a gala ball and frolic for tonight, New Year's eve, in Forster hall on El Camino Real, has been made by members of the Riviera of America chapter here.

Members of the local group feel that their new organization has accomplished the purpose for which they banded together, that of reviving the ancient custom of "open house," which officially closes tomorrow night at sundown.

A luncheon meeting of the chapter will be held at Mission cafe at noon next Monday. A permanent organization will be perfected at that time.

Following a turkey dinner prepared by the Friends Hand class, and served by the high school department, greeting was extended by Howard Barnes, Stanley Kurtz, El Modena, sang two numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Kurtz; Henry Stoner gave a short talk on "Youth Exploring in the Unknown," which dealt with recent discoveries in science. Miss Marion Blewitt, Anaheim, spoke on "Exploring the Untried" and Vernon Mansur gave a humorous talk on "Exploring the Unthinkable."

Miss Dorothy Flinham sang two solos, accompanied by Miriam Powell and the closing number was a short speech by Dr. Robert B. McAlaun, on "Youth in Exploring the Unseen." A trio, composed of Misses Beatrice and Audrey Granas, Santa Ana, and Miss Helen Archer, Tustin, furnished music during the evening.

Resolutions
For Others

With criticism and malice toward none we have prepared a list of New Year's resolutions. Not for ourselves, but for others. We have made and broken some of the best New Year's resolutions we could think of, so today we make some for others.

A few may be tinged with complaint, one or two may sound like finger-wagging and others may be just slap-on-the-back stuff and all very marshmallowy, but here goes.

We want the Santa Ana night ball commission to resolve to wrest that gonfalon away from Huntington Beach. No malice—remember—to ward Huntington Beach's Joe Rodgers, but we want the Stars to claim that pennant sometime next September. Yes, a resolution: "To take the championship from Huntington Beach—even if it means new faces from water boy on up to the top."

For Sam Sampson—"To bring more and better boxers to the highway 101 arena; in short, to make boxing as popular as wrestling." Sam has moved his fight night from Thursday to Friday in taking a running start to this resolution. Because most other Southern clubs operate on Thursday nights, Sam will now be able to get better material for his shows.

Here's one for you, Bill Foote: "Develop some boys to take the places of Youel, Crowther, Reid, Short, Beal, Joy, Robinson, Crawford. Just give us another year like this one on the gridiron."

And for you, Coach Reece Green: "Keep up the good work of making a place in the sun for Santa Ana High school basketball. The court game is deserving of the best prestige possible and the Saints are deserving of the highest representation." And you, Coach Bill Cook: "Try to get Stanford and U. S. C. frosh on the dotted line for your junior college grid gang. More of the same kind of play your boys put up against Riverside will satisfy each and every junior college football fan."

Bill Cook comes in for one, too: "To get back into the night basketball business. You're a colorful part of it, Bill, and you belong out there booting 'em in from third base. Plenty of National League teams could use your tutoring."

Skipping over to Anaheim, let's deliver one at the doorstep of Vic Ruedy and his compatriots. "Get busy, Vic, and get that Portland baseball club to train in your back yard in 1937. Officials of the Beaver team are as anxious to do their lumbering there as you are to have 'em and would have called around this spring had your park been in shape. Don't let 'em slip between your fingers again."

While we're in the neighborhood, we may as well drop off something at Dick Glover's house: "Dear Dick: 'Your 1935 Anaheim eleven stands out in our memory like few other teams we have seen this year. Even if 'Shorty' Smith's Brea gang did wrest the title from you we feel the future of Orange county high school football is safe when there is a gang in the neighborhood good enough to lick your bunch. Your 1936 aim couldn't be much higher if you determined only to match your 1935 pace."

Fullerton isn't so far away, so we may as well call on Arky Vaughan. Dear Arky: "Your leading major league slugger, think what a tune you could play on the turnstiles of Pacific Coast league baseball! It's remote and perhaps silly, of course, but if you could resolve to loan yourself to Hollywood or Los Angeles after all your Southern California boy—for just one season you would put coast baseball on its financial feet. If you can't resolve to do this—well, Orange county will be rather happy if you just keep up your slugging ways in the big circuit."

GOULD SIZES UP SPORTING PICTURE FOR NEXT YEAR

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, Dec. 31 (AP)—Now that the athletic stretch drive, have closed the year, it's time to take stock of the competitive prospects for the new year.

Easing our aching arches and lighting a fresh cigar, here's the way things look from this corner.

BOWL HEADLINERS

THE TALENTS of four All-America grid-men will be on display in the Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl games New Year's day. They are Stanford's Bobby Grayson and Southern Methodist's Bobby Wilson, both backs, at Pasadena; Gaynell Tinsley, Louisiana State end, and Darrell Lester, Texas Christian center, at New Orleans.

ALGER HORSE FAVORED IN CLASSIC

Riskulus, Ariel Cross, Soon Over, Beefsteak Also In Field

SANTA ANITA, Dec. 31.—The $5000 added mile and one-sixteenth feature, the yard-decaying, smooth-running Azucar carries the Fred M. Alger Jr. colors as the favorite in the second annual New Year's day stakes at Santa Anita tomorrow.

Trainer Alexis (Lex) Wilson has the privilege of deciding whether Azucar will start the top weight of 122 pounds assigned by Racing Secretary Webb Everett, but it is understood he has no intention of keeping the former steeplechase horse from the post.

Azucar not only topped the New Year's stakes of 1935 but annexed the Arcadia plant's richest prize, the $100,000 Santa Anita handicapped, in late February, and it is no secret that Owner Alger is out to win both honors again.

Azucar goes up against a crack field, with Northway's threatening Riskulus as the foremost challenger. Ariel Cross, Soon Over, Beefsteak, Howard, West Main and Black Gift are among the other horses that probably will go post-ward.

Full Sports Year Nears End Local Highlights Pass In Review

By PAUL WRIGHT
Father Time closes his books tonight on an action-packed 1935—a year generally regarded as one of the most entertaining in the annals of Orange county sports.

Every branch of athletics flourished in the citrus belt, recognized as a hot-bed for striking achievements in the field of football, track, night baseball, golf, boxing and wrestling, tennis, basketball and some of the minor sports—particularly badminton and swimming.

Gate receipts compared favorably with past years, indicating steady patronage by a sports-loving public.

This is no attempt to pick "ten best stories" to marshal into chronological sequence all the happenings of the year; it is intended to be a simple, brief history of highlights—a backward glance as the old year gives way to the new.

Golf provided some of 1935's best stories locally.

Young Don Kennedy's performance on the links were nothing short of sensational. He won the Southern California junior championship at Hillcrest in Los Angeles, teamed with his father, Rex Kennedy, to win the high-low tournament for men at the Santa Ana Country club, and in August shot a 67 that shattered W. W. (Bill) Foote's amateur record of 68 at the Newport boulevard course.

Dick Ewert Wins
Miss Lolita Mead dethroned

At the Huntington Beach invitational climaxed activities in the floor sport.

Beaten by China
Big Bill Cole's Tustin quintet finished in a technical deadlock with Anaheim with eight victories against one defeat, but the Tilters won the title on the strength of an early victory over the Colonists. Tustin and its high-scoring Sammy Francis fell in the first round of the C. I. F. play-offs before China, 29-27, in the last 30 seconds of play.

Fullerton Triumphs
Fullerton Eastern Junior college conference basketball laurels despite a shocking 31-30 upset from Santa Ana's Dons, who defeated only one other opponent, San Bernardino 36-24. Fullerton won the Southern title on a forfeit from Compton. Long Beach Poly walked off with the Coast Prep league crown.

The Mormons won the Community Church league basketball title, the Woolen Mills annexed Commercial league honors, and Wayne Garlock's Service won the W. M. C. A.'s first annual invitational.

Jolly Joe Rodgers' Huntington Beach Oilers gained undisputed recognition as king of softball by annexing the Southern California pennant for the second successive year.

Santa Ana Junior college's golfers, captained by Preston Piper, were crowned Eastern conference champs, but lost in the Southern play-offs to Long Beach.

Death of President George Shattuck, charter member, resulted in the election of Col. M. B. Wellington as head of the country club. Joe Hunter resigned as pro in June, and was replaced in October by Roy Renwick from Santa Barbara.

Fullerton High school's great two-man track team—John Raitt and Erwin Miller—and Santa Ana Junior college's hurdling captain, Lucian Wilson, led the parade in track and field. Raitt, who established a new Southern prep record of 55 feet 10 1/2 ins. in the shot put and also won the football throw, combined with Miller, who won the 440, to earn the California state track title for Fullerton, the first school in the county ever to win it, although Santa Ana tied for the honor in '30. Wilson set a new record of 23.9 secs. in the low hurdles of Southern California junior college competition. Rudy Holman, ex-Orange star with the Dons, established a new time of 10 min. 12 secs. in the two-mile.

Santa Ana's Saint trackmen finished second to Chaffey in the Huntington Beach Invitational.

ROSE BOWL BELL

TEXANS RATE 10-8 CHOICE OVER REDS

PASADENA, Dec. 31. (AP)—The weather man strengthened the odds favoring Southern Methodist over Stanford in the 21st Rose tournament football game tomorrow by forecasting fair weather today.

There is no prospect of showers either tonight or tomorrow, he said, and a warm sun breaking through the mists this morning started drying out the soggy turf of the big stadium in the Arroyo Seco.

10 to 8 Odds
Even in the face of possible moisture and bad footing, the pregame odds favored Coach Matty Bell's wild charging Mustangs, 10 to 8. Today's favorable forecast only served to emphasize that conditions should be to the liking of the brilliant invaders.

Upwards of 80,000 persons—the great bowl has been sold out for weeks—will flock into the Arroyo Seco to see Stanford make its third bid for Rose Bowl fame. Twice favored, the Palo Alto army was twice turned back in the past two years. Columbia did it, 7-0, in a mud fiasco; Alabama passed 'em dizzy, 29-13, last year.

Stanford in Spot
Underdogs because of the spectacular style of play employed by the visitors, Stanford sits in a good spot to pull an upset. All-American Bobby Grayson, reported out of the contest with a severe cold, is ready to go; "Monk" Moscrip, another All-American, nurses an injured knee but will be in there for at least part of the game. Three times this year Moscrip has booted field goals that gave the only once-beaten Indians victories. Upon Moscrip's trusty toe Thorndahl will have a zip which clinched the Mustangs stop Grayson, Paulman and other luminaries of the Stanford backfield.

Coach Bell has a couple of threats in Bobby Wilson, 147-pound ball-toter, and 210-pound punter, who has kicked 37 points in field goals and conversions. Orr, fans maintain, offsets the great threat of Moscrip; Wilson equalizes Grayson. And the great passing ability of the Mustangs makes them natural favorites.

Southern Californians saw the Mustangs kick U. C. L. A. in 21-0 on Armistice day, filling the Los Angeles Coliseum with passes, laterals, short tosses and long leadsure heaves.

Western hopes will ride on the shoulders of 22 players, unable to match the "headline names" of their Eastern rivals, but who will try to keep unborn a string of victories for the West beginning in 1932.

The thought of losing such performers as Bobby Grayson, Stanford, and Bobby Wilson, S. M. U. provided early headaches for the West's coaching staff, Percy Loecey and Orin Hollingbery.

FEW BROKEN BONES

DR. J. E. McMEEL, Notre Dame's football physician, reports fewer than half a dozen regulars, among 235 varsity and freshman gridriders, suffered broken bones in the 1935 campaign. The best preventive of injury, he says, is the daily 15-minute calisthenics session.

WRESTLING FANS HANDED NEW OUTLOOK ON LIFE AS VILLAIN THUMPED

By FRANK ROGERS
Journal Sports Editor
Well, 1936 can arrive tomorrow and find nothing but kindness and happiness in the hearts of Orange county's wrestling addicts.

Wee Willie "got his" last night at the hands of Nick Lutze and that erases all the bad memories of 1935 and puts a brand new, sanitary outlook on the new year.

Promoter Sam Sampson handed the faithful fans a surprise package last night in what was the best wrestling of his meteoric career here. Lutze was slated to tangle with Milo Steinborn, but Steinborn came up with an injury. Big-hearted Sampson went to added expense and got Wee Willie to step in with Lutze.

Keeps Up Work
This bout wasn't billed as the main event, but few looked on it as anything else. Lutze took up his battering of the 247-pound West Virginian right where he left off last week when he injured his hand.

Making Davis appear the big, bullying brute that he is, Lutze forestalled all of the dirty work that has swept Davis through so many arguments. It was only a one-fall affair and Lutze grabbed that with a thundering series of elbow smashes which led up to a body slam in 21 mins. and 2 secs. Only trouble with the battle was that it didn't go the full 45 minute limit.

Davis had only one moment of glory. He fastened the usually fatal knee lock on Lutze but the blond Venice life guard broke it and set a new record by crawling into the ropes. It is this hold with which Davis turned back such notables as Sander Szabo and Kiman Kudo.

Davis Gives Signal
This little taste of Davis medicine was all that Lutze needed—it was the signal for the climax. Surviving a futile Davis elbow smash attack, Nick started one of his own, felled his hostile opponent half a dozen times with crushing elbow smashes and then body pressed him into submission.

In the proper main event Casey Columbo "out-Kudoed" Kiman Kudo in a genuinely scientific struggle. Not an off-color blow was landed as the Japanese boy gave in twice to the American. Casey gets a match with Champ Vincent Lopez next week for his victory.

Much of Kudo's highly-polished scientific style was lacking and he was surprisingly low on resistance. The Japanese star surrendered the first fall in 13 mins. 33 secs. under pressure of a hamstring very well applied by Mr. Columbo. More trouble arrived for Kudo after 20 mins. 13 secs. Columbo came up with an airplane spin, Kudo hung on and refused to be flopped so Columbo dropped him backward, crushing the Japanese performer.

Freeman Liked
Herb Freeman, new Jewish star, made a hit with the fans in disposing of much-maligned Jack Washburn. The portly ex-police man succumbed in 7 mins. 50 secs. to a simple body slam.

Len McDuso won admiration for dumping Freddy Carone with a flying tackle in 13 mins.

Jarring Jim (Sweet) Musick, Santa Ana's deputy sheriff and ex-Trojan grid star, spent another profitable season with the Boston Redskins of the National Pro Football league; and Lawrence (Larry) Lutz, another Santa Ana home town, was named all-America tackle with the California Bears at Berkeley. Floyd (Toy) Blower, ex-Saint captain, sparked the California varsity at halfback.

Back from his third and most sensational year in the majors, Floyd (Arky) Vaughan was given a big reception in Fullerton, his home town. He hit .385 for the Pittsburgh Pirates at shortstop, leading both the National and American leagues.

Three sports news to Orange county were introduced during '35. Rugby made an impressive debut at the Municipal bowl in February, with the U. S. C. Trojans defeating the Southern California union 3-0 on a goal by Joe Preininger. Santa Ana boy Greyhound racing attracted attention at the county fairgrounds in May. Roque, a game similar to croquet, was introduced more recently, with two courts on West Walnut street between Flower and Parton.

W. W. (BILL) FOOTE
season. Jimmy Coates pitched Santa Ana to the first-half title of the National Nightball league, but Huntington Beach won the second, and then outclassed Colton in the Southern play-offs with four straight wins.

The Elks defeated the 20-30's for the City Nightball crown, with Bob Schwarm winning the 1935 batting championship with an even .500. Olive lay claim to the County Nightball title after outclassing Brea, 13-3, in the fourth game of a three-out-of-five series.

Badminton Queen
Miss Twila Heath, Santa Ana's badminton queen, returned home with singles and doubles championships from the Pasadena Open.

Dave Beal of the boys and Miss Jewell MacIntire of the girls were crowned swimming champions of a city meet held in Andrews gymnasium pool before 500 fans.

Walter Wentz, Garden Grove, former umpire, was elected National league president following the resignation of George Peter-

MEMORABLE NEWS EVENTS OF 1935 RECALLED IN COMPILATION

ROGERS-POST CRASH HELD SPOTLIGHT

Hauptmann Trial, War, Weyerhaeuser Case Took Headlines

Speaking of news, 1935 was a big year for the newspapers and their readers.

Nearly every day of the year saw some outstanding event, the chronicling of which commanded the attention of readers in every community.

Disaster, death, science, crime, sports events, romance, legislation, war—in fact, nearly every type of happening—had its brief spotlight of attention, both nationally and locally.

Rogers-Post Crash
International attention was focused upon such disasters as the fatal crash of Will Rogers and Wiley Post. The Hauptmann trial and Weyerhaeuser kidnapping occupied a wealth of space in the newspapers. Italy and Ethiopia went to war; congress and the President came in for their share of attention; Joe Louis and the World Series were outstanding in the news; and the flights of the Clipper planes across the Pacific provided interesting reading.

Santa Ana and Orange county provided a wealth of news events along with the chronicling of events of national and international importance. One of the most outstanding here was the Whitney case.

Following is a resume, by month and day, of the more important happenings of the year:

JANUARY

2: New Jersey—Hauptmann trial goes under way.

3: Washington—Seventy-fourth congress convenes.

4: Washington—Roosevelt forecasts Works Progress administration.

5: Santa Ana—Near cloudburst drenches Orange county with inch of rain in few minutes.

6: Sacramento—California legislature convenes; Edward Craig, Brea, elected speaker of assembly.

6: Washington—Roosevelt asks $4,000,000,000 for work relief.

9: Newport Beach—First dredger arrives at Newport harbor.

10: Sacramento—$15,000,000 state income tax bill presented legislature.

12: Oakland—Annelia Earhart Putnam flies from Honolulu to Oakland.

14: Berlin—Saar district votes to rejoin Germany.

14: Santa Ana—City hall contract awarded to Ball and Honer.

15: Santa Ana—Directors oppose solicitation for chamber of commerce funds.

16: San Francisco—San Quentin convicts in sensational escape.

16: Sacramento—Motor deaths in California for 1934 reach 2771, breaking all records.

17: Washington—President Roosevelt urges unemployment pensions.

17: Santa Ana—Legality of city council spending of bond funds for new city hall is questioned.

18: Washington—Anna Roosevelt Dall weds newspaper man.

19: Santa Ana—Freak windstorm causes $18,000 citrus damage.

20: Washington—$5,000,000,000 works bill introduced to congress.

22: Santa Ana—A. F. LeGaye resigns from city council, questioning its legality.

23: Santa Ana—$397,127 high school contracts approved.

23: Sacramento—Governor Merriam asks $154,000,000 state taxes.

25: New York—Liner Mohawk sinks; 47 lives lost.

26: New Orleans—Huey Long crushes armed revolt of foes.

28: Balboa—Rendezvous ballroom burns at loss of $100,000.

30: Washington—U. S. rejects world court.

30: Santa Ana—Supervisors endorse Elliott flood control plan.

FEBRUARY

1: Las Vegas—Water turned into Boulder dam.

4: Santa Ana—Four die in county auto accidents over weekend.

5: Chicago—Dionnes in first visit to city.

LIFE IN 1935

11. Women Score In Arts And In The Air

Women continued to make strides in politics and in the business world during 1935 and won new laurels in the arts and aviation.

By HERBERT YAHRAES
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Women in 1935 continued to hold a prominent place in the headline parade.

If John Smith and family found their achievements something less than spectacular, that was because John Smith and family by this year had grown accustomed to seeing women riddle the idea that this, after all, is a man's world.

Perhaps women's widest acclaim the last 12 months was won in the fields of art, entertainment and aviation.

Three major Pulitzer prizes went to women writers: Josephine Johnson, novelist, Zoe Akins, dramatist, Audrey Wurdemann, poet, Anne Morrow Lindbergh gained new esteem for her account of the Lindberghs' aid tour to the Orient. Lillian Hellman, long a struggling press agent on Broadway, wrote "The Children's Hour," and became one of the year's most celebrated playwrights.

Leginska's Opera

Ethel Leginska composed, conducted and helped stage the opera "Gale," given a successful premiere in Chicago. Antonia Brico, Californian of Italian descent, established and brought to a high degree of efficiency a symphony orchestra composed entirely of women—considered a remarkable accomplishment because scarcely a one of her players had had symphony orchestra experience.

Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Horn

Entered the movies at 74 and seemed assured of success. Shirley Temple, child star, continued to captivate John Smith as well as his daughter, Eleanor Powell, hooper, twinkled on screen and stage.

Rachel Crothers, dramatist, decided to put individuality into the movies. Making a percentage deal with Producer Samuel Goldwyn, she wrote the scenario, directed the cast for a week, helped design the costumes, helped create the settings, sat in with the cutting editor. Payment will depend upon the picture's success. Hollywood writers say she has helped blaze a new trail.

New Air History

Flying alone from Hawaii to California, and setting a Mexico City-New York speed mark, Amelia Earhart again made aviation history.

Laura Ingalls sped from Los Angeles to New York in 13 hours, 34 minutes, to establish a new mark for women fliers, and Helen MacCloskey did 1683 miles an hour to write up a new feminine international record for light airplanes.

Helen Kichey, first woman to hold a transport pilot's job, resigned and later was appointed air-marking pilot for the bureau of air commerce.

Commercial affairs yielded no outstanding new name, but women continued to hold the important positions already won. John Smith no longer found it a matter for comment that a woman should be a cabinet member or a United States minister.

And he might have been amused, but hardly surprised, by the formation of a "League for a Woman President."

Thursday—Preview of 1936

The 1936 cash bonus drive got under way yesterday with announcement of Representative Patman (D., Texas) that the steering committee which worked for his bill at the last congress would meet Jan. 2.

Patman's measure, providing for paying the bonus with new currency, was defeated by a presidential veto early this year.

The Texan asserted full cash payment now is his first consideration, and the method of financing secondary. He told reporters he might compromise on the method but never on his demand the veterans be paid in full.

Telephones Increase

William Wells, Southern California Telephone company executive, announced there had been a definite trend during the year just closing to establish telephone connections in Santa Ana.

The total number of telephone connections in Santa Ana for 1935 was 6922, an increase of 450 over 1934. Last year's total of 6472 connections in Santa Ana was the lowest level reached since 1931.

Mr. Wells said the 1935 figure indicated that the 1932 level of 7036 connections probably would be reached next year.

Last year between Dec. 6 and Dec. 26, there were 7410 sacks of mail handled through the Santa Ana postoffice. This year, the figure jumped to 7939. From Dec. 1, 1934, to Dec. 26 of the same year, 544,000 letters and cards were "handled" here. This year, during the same period, there were 617,900 pieces of mail routed by the local postoffice.

PROSPERITY RETURNS TO SANTA ANA

Building Permits And Utility Connections Reveal Increase

The year 1935 has been a prosperous one in Santa Ana. Building permits, electric connections, water connections, postoffice mail, and telephone connections point definitely to this fact.

Insofar as building in Santa Ana is concerned, the year just closed is indicative of a returning prosperity. In total number of building permits issued and in the total valuation of permits, it surpasses any year since 1930 when there were 907 permits issued with a total valuation of $2,149,941. Since Jan. 1, 1935, there have been 846 permits issued by City Building Inspector Sam Preble with a total valuation of $932,159.

Dropped in 1931

In 1931, the valuation of permits issued in Santa Ana dropped from the two million mark of the preceding year to $910,582. The next year saw another drop, when 457 permits were issued with a total valuation of only $327,257. In 1933, 1486 permits were issued, most of them as a result of rebuilding work after the earthquake with a valuation of $488,220. Last year's total was 629 permits with a valuation of $354,134, or approximately one third of this year's total valuation.

Figures released today by Rodney Bacon, district manager of the Southern California Edison company, indicated that the number of electricity meters installed in Orange county this year is nearly three times greater than the total for 1933. This year, there were 1493 new meters installed in Orange county. Of that number, 277 were new business house meters; the remaining 1166 were installed for domestic purposes.

Water Meters Double

The total number of new water meters installed in Santa Ana during the year just closed is nearly double the number installed in 1934, according to figures released today by Harry Hays, head of the water department, city clerk's office. In 1934, there were 36 new water meters installed. This year, there have been 66 new meters placed in operation.

In going through the records, Mr. Hays found there are more meters in operation in Santa Ana at present than at any time in the history of the city. There are nearly 300 more meters in operation this year than last, Mr. Hays said. With the exception of the new meters installed, this figure represents the re-opening of old meters that had been disconnected.

Mr. Hays said the water department has slightly more than 9,000 accounts, and that each month there are approximately 2,000 delinquencies. As the result of contacts with delinquents, however, the water department has collected all monies due for water. Mr. Hays pointed out that during the past five years the department has refrained from using its authority to shut off water where accounts were delinquent, and has tried to help the public make good whenever possible.

INDECENT SHOW CHARGE AGAINST TIMONY

HOLLYWOOD.—Police raided an alleged indecent show show today and arrested James A. Timony, business manager of Mae West, and 14 members of the cast of "Ladies by Request." After being booked on suspicion of producing an indecent show and suspicion of failure to obtain a fire permit, Timony was released on his own recognizance.

RESCUE THREE BOYS FROM HIGH LEDGE

SUNLAND, Cal.—Three small boys, marooned on a rocky ledge 200 feet above the floor of Oliver canyon, near Foothill boulevard, were rescued by Los Angeles county fire patrolmen early today. The boys, Wayne Bradford, 12; his brother, James, 10; and Carl Lindquist, 11, lost their way yesterday on a hike from their Sunland homes.

TWO TRY TO BREAK OUT OF REFORMATORY

FRANKFORT, Ky.—An attempted break from the Frankfort reformatory early today failed when two young prisoners were frightened from a ladder by the shots of guards. The two who tried to break out are Allen Cans, alias James, 25, and Tennessee Wooten, 24.

Death Is Running a Losing Race in County; Total for 11 Months Under Last Year

Death has been running a losing race in Orange county.

During the first 11 months of 1935 Death has failed to equal his record for the first 11 months of 1934. So far this year, 1065 deaths have occurred in Orange county, while for the first 11 months of 1934 the total number was 1084.

The deaths for the entire year of 1934 amounted to 1184, according to records in the office of Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer. Thus, December of this year will have to record 119 deaths if last year's mark is equalled.

Figures for December are not all in and tabulated. Reports come to Dr. Sutherland's office from cities and communities throughout the county and until they have all been received and compiled, the final total for the 12 months of 1935 will not be known.

Another indication that Death is running a losing race is even in comparison of the figures for 1934 with those of 1933. In the latter year there were 1227 deaths, as compared to 1184 for 1934.

Records compiled by Dr. Sutherland show deaths from all causes, including automobile accidents, in the home or in industry, as well as deaths resulting from disease and natural causes.

HOLLYWOOD LIKES OCTOBER Weddings, Divorces Popular

By ROBERT COONS

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 31. (AP)—October, not June, was the month of movie brides this old year.

And October, the month most movie brides picked as the time to fall in love and marry, was also "tops" as a time to fall out of love and think about divorce.

Ten of 1935's 48 filmdom brides took the vows as autumn leaves were in first blush; 11 one-time brides of filmdom changed their minds about romance as autumn leaves changed colors.

Wedding Bells Lead

At that, wedding rings had slightly the better of parting papers in Hollywood's annual domestic handiwork. Statistically, 46 home fires were extinguished while 48 new ones were being lighted.

Actually, domesticity did better than was claimed by Lupe Velez and Johnny Weissmuller patched up their difficulties (again!) and Bill Boyd and Dorothy Sebastian, after separating, came together.

Briefest marriage of the year was that of Lona Andre, one-time "panther woman" contestant, to Edward Norris, actor. They married June 4 and separated immediately, she said in winning an annulment Oct. 18.

Several film names figured in both marriage and divorce news of the year. Director W. S. Van Dyke married Ruth Mannin, actress, after winning a decree from his long-stranded former wife, Zina B. Van Dyke. Nancy Carroll divorced Bolton Mallory in Reno, but he had previously won a decree in Mexico and married again there. Claudette Colbert got a Mexican decree from Norman Foster and on Christmas eve she married Dr. Joel J. Pressman. Foster earlier had married Sally Blane.

Yuma, Ariz., held its own as a Gretna Green for filmdom's elopements, aerial and otherwise.

Domestic breaks among the cinematically prominent included those of Producer Jack L. Warner and Irma S. Warner, divorced after a 20-year marriage, and Mary Astor and Dr. Franklin Thorpe, Lila Lee and Jack Peine, Helen Morgan and Maurice Maschke, Busby Berkeley and Merna Kennedy, Colleen Moore and Al Scott, Adrienne Ames and Bruce Cabot, Joan Blondell and George Barnes, Dolores Costello and John Barrymore, Dorothy Lee and Marshall Duffield, Barbara Stanwyck and Frank Fay, Clark Gable and Mrs. Ria Gable.

BRUNS SEEKS WATER FUND DATA HERE

Wants Public Informed About Metropolitan District Set-Up

Councilman Plummer Bruns wants the people of Santa Ana informed on the exact financial set-up of this city in regard to the Metropolitan Water District, of which it is a member.

"There seems to be an impression that our share of the district expense is carried on with surplus earnings of the water department," Mr. Bruns told the city council at its meeting last night.

At Mr. Bruns' request, City Attorney L. W. Blodgett and City Auditor Lloyd Banks were authorized to compile a report on the city's financial status in relation to the district.

Increase Expected
After the council had decided to delay action on purchase of a park site. At an informal meeting of city officials yesterday it was explained that an increase is expected in the Metropolitan Water District tax rate and that funds in the unappropriated reserve might be used to help meet it if they were not used to buy a park site.

These funds never have been used so far to help defray the city's share of the M. W. D. expense.

District Sets Own Rate
"There seems to be a misunderstanding," said Mr. Bruns last night, "as to where the money is derived for the Metropolitan Water District. I believe the people would like to know the exact status of the financial set-up, how much it has cost the city so far and how much it is likely to cost in the future."

"Last year it cost us $15,000 and this year $47,000. The Metropolitan Water District board sets its own tax rate."

Mr. Bruns also said he would like to know how much it is likely to cost the city to hook up its distribution system with the water mains of the M. W. D. when they are built.

Dinner Parties, Parade, 'Big Game' Lure Santa Anans

New Year to Be Seen in by Many at Art Masquerade

"We're going to the mountains!" "The Big Game, for us."

And so in a variety of ways, tonight Santa Anans will welcome the leap year that's just around the corner of the calendar.

Dinner parties, the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, the Big Game and the mountains each will lure scores of Santa Ana residents.

Some of the plans of localities follow:

Miss Susan Cloyes' means of celebration of the holidays was a dinner party given in the home of Mrs. Mayme Hutchinson, 621 Spurgeon street. Blue and silver appointments were in evidence. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cloyes and son, Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hindley, G. W. Harris and Mrs. Etta C. Evans, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cloyes, Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Evans and son and daughter, San Fernando; and Mrs. E. C. Evans, Garden Grove.

Miss Donna Baker, 2068 Oak street, gave a holiday farewell dinner party for her sister, Miss Margaret Baker, Sunday in her home. Miss Baker is to leave Thursday morning to return to her home in Genoa, Ohio, after spending the holidays in Santa Ana and with her mother, Mrs. Bernice Baker, in Los Angeles. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ruland Smith, Miss Dorothy Smith, Lyle Gardner and LeRoy Smith.

Dr. E. C. Frandson and Mrs. Frandson and daughter, Ruth and LaVonne, 2003 North Ross street, are to spend tomorrow in Los Angeles having dinner and attending a theater performance.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pritchard and son, Donald and daughter, Virginia, of 706 South Birch street, are spending tomorrow dining and attending the theater in Los Angeles.

Numerous Orange county residents will attend the New Year's even annual costume ball at Laguna Beach with the beach artists association as their hosts tonight.

Sharing a Palm Springs holiday outing are Miss Margaret Munro, Miss Patty Rapp and Miss Florence Liggett, home from college for the holidays, and Bill Hawkins and Arthur Nisson of Santa Ana, Miss Margaret Nickerson, Bob Rolfe and Paul Moffett. Miss Liggett will be in Redlands for New Year's with Miss Nickerson.

Mrs. Maude Miller, 731 South Broadway, and her sister, Mrs. Ella Miller of Los Angeles, will be joined tomorrow by Dr. J. M. Raugh and Mrs. Raugh, who will spend the day in Los Angeles with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Banks will go to the parade and football game in Pasadena, closing the day with dinner at the home of relatives in Glendale.

Arthur Gallagher and his daughter, Miss Helen Gallagher, 514 East Pine street, are entertaining Mr. Gallagher's son, John W. Gallagher, of San Francisco as a holiday guest. Other guests in the home are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Gallagher and sons, Thomas, Jr., and John, also of San Francisco. The northerners plan to attend the Rose Bowl game tomorrow.

Mrs. William H. Harrison, 1406 Bush street, is to entertain as guests tomorrow Captain James R. Simpson and Mrs. Simpson and sons, Howard and Paul of Fort Thomas, Ky., and Mr. and Mrs. Morton Simpson of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Simpson, Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lucas and son, Danny, of Victorville, are holiday guests of Mrs. Minnie Allen, 1321 North Garnsey street.

Dr. Dexter Ball and Mrs. Ball's home on Bonnie Brae has been open to friends in the holiday season. Tomorrow the Balls with their sons, Dexter, Jr., and Bobbie, will attend the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena. They are to be supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Osbourne in Pasadena.

Tomorrow Mrs. Emily Munro, 1722 Bush street, her uncle, Chris Frank of Victoria, B. C., and George Munro, Jr., and Miss Margaret Munro of the home will join Mrs. Munro's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hopper of Covina, in attending the Tournament of Roses, and the young people will see the Big Game in Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schwanitz (Edith Leonard), who will return to make their home at 1707 South Main street, are honeymooning through California, this holiday season. They were married last Saturday afternoon by the Rev.

W. S. Buchanan, Christian minister, in his home.

Mr. Schwanitz is manager of the Santa Ana Nursery. He met his bride in his former home, Minneapolis, when she was in nurses' training. She has been on the nursing staff of the Orange county hospital. She is a daughter of Mrs. Christine Leonard, 1117 South Birch street.

Mrs. Leonard's home was the scene of a shower given recently for 35 relatives and friends. Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. Loring Vose and Mrs. Warner Reynolds gave the party for the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce, 1326 North Garnsey, in company with their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robbins who are visiting from New York, will go with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hampson of Pomona to the rose parade in Pasadena New Year's day.

To the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Birt, Huntington Park, for the holiday will go Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Birt, 2210 Maple street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eckles, 922 South Parton, will be among spectators at the New Year's day parade in Pasadena.

New Year's eve, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beasley, 1708 Spurgeon, will entertain at a card and watch party. Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Pollins, Mr. and Mrs. Art Brown and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McGhee.

"Noah," current production at the Pasadena Community playhouse, will be the New Year's eve rendezvous for Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Horn and Dr. H. J. Howard and Mrs. Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Muller, 1227 South Main street, daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Price, and granddaughter, Patricia Price, will go with their houseguests, Mrs. Laura Tyler and Mrs. Gotchall and daughter, Helen, of Santa Diego, to the rose parade in Pasadena.

On their way to march in the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, a unit of 185 students from the San Diego Military academy will be breakfast guests at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the James cafe.

Bernice and Donald Boyd and Mr. and Mrs. Aldon Eby of Santa Ana will spend the holiday at Forest Home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bray, 2022 Bush street, will have as their dinner guests New Year's day, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Liggett, also of Santa Ana.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brigante, 2203 Greenleaf, will spend New Year's day with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Yates, in Los Angeles. Tonight they will go dancing at the Palomar in Los Angeles with Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Wussow, also of Santa Ana.

The Deauville Beach club will be the destination of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burns, 1420 South Parton, for dinner and dancing tonight. Tomorrow they will attend a reunion of Mrs. Burns' family in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Barr, Newport road, Tustin, will attend a private party with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jesson from Claremont, at the Lake Norconian club tonight. Tomorrow they will be guests of the Jessens at their home in Claremont.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baker, 1907 Valencia street, expect to entertain Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bowman, her parents, from Los Angeles, at dinner tomorrow.

Miss Mary Tutthill, with her houseguest and friend from Stanford, Miss Doris McDonald, will attend the Stanford-S. M. U. football game in the Rose Bowl tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Anderson, 930 South Main street, will have dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Larsen, Compton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Oharr, 907 South Van Ness, will entertain the Rev. C. M. Aker, Mrs. Aker, son,

Miss Pritchard Jaysee Group Hostess at Luncheon Has Reunion Party

Remember the time—? Remembering rivaled the fun of playing bridge yesterday afternoon when Miss Katherine Chapman entertained a group of former colleagues at a reunion party in her home on North Main street.

A white bowl of white flowers centered the luncheon table. Black and silver placecards and tallies lent a smart note to the appointments. Black' silver wrapped the prizes.

Guests included Misses Katherine Maddock, Geraldine Gilbert, Anne Wetherell, Carolyn Davis, Mary Henderson, Ruth and LaVonne Frandson, Ruth Greenwald, Ruth Budd, Betty Hammond and Audrey Granas.

50 Years Wedded, Santa Ana Couple Much Congratulated

Fifty years man and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Saunby, longtime Santa Ana residents and prominent members of First Methodist church, yesterday were besieged at their home, 806 Orange avenue, by hosts of well-wishing friends.

From 3 to 6 o'clock at the home, Mr. and Mrs. Saunby received their friends. Miss Sarah Lewis of Pasadena, who was present at their wedding a half-century ago in London, Ont., poured tea at a table festive with madeira lace, gold chrysanthemum centerpiece and gold candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunby (she the former Alice Teresa Cosford) have four children, Sidney Saunby of Los Angeles, Ernest Saunby of San Diego, Mrs. A. E. Young of Alhambra and Miss Dora Saunby, recently returned from a round-the-world trip. They have one grandchild, Miss Celeste Young, daughter of the A. E. Youngs. The children assisted in giving the reception.

In the evening at the Methodist church, more than 100 friends called to congratulate the couple. The golden pair lived in Ontario, where Mr. Saunby was a flour miller, until coming to Tustin and Santa Ana 35 years ago. He has been an orange rancher, and retired from business some years ago. Both Mr. and Mrs. Saunby are very active in church work.

Masons Plan Ball for Tonight

More than 200 Masons and their families are expected to gather at the Masonic temple tonight from 9 to 1 for a New Year's eve frolic.

A 10-piece orchestra has been obtained to play for the event. Cards will be played with prizes awarded to high score holders.

Silver Cord lodge officers under direction of Lloyd M. Banks, program chairman, will sponsor the event.

Hundreds of noise-makers, balloons and hats have been obtained for the party. The hall will be decorated in festive colors. Semi-formal attire has been dictated.

"WUXTRY! WUXTRY!" QUILL PEN PAPER AGAIN SEES LIGHT

"All about . . . etc." Quill Pen club members observed holiday tradition by putting out their annual newspaper at the club Christmas party last evening in the home of Mrs. Marshall Harnois, East Walnut street.

Comics by Mrs. Marah Adams and a society page written by Mrs. Frank Was and illustrated by her son, Frank, Jr., were among highlights of the paper.

A gift exchange was followed by the serving of spaghetti, ravioli and coffee. Duncan Harnois played piano solos.

Others present were Mesdames Emmett Elliott, Blanche Small Brown, Lucy Marshall, Jeanette Wells, Roy Winchester, Annette Smith, Frank Wilsey, J. U. Vlau, William Fritcher and Lawrence Watson and Misses Verna Wells, Lella Watson, Mildred Watson and Dorothy Garstang.

LOCAL DELEGATE AT CONFERENCE OF CHURCH IN SOUTH

Sent as delegate from the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church, Miss Mildred Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Goodwin, 617 South Sycamore street, is attending the national Methodist church (South) conference being held in Memphis, Tenn., this week.

She left Christmas eve on a special train of delegates from Los Angeles. A group of 30 was sent from California. Following the conference, she will return by way of San Antonio, Tex., where she will visit her sister, Mrs. R. J. Hayes.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS GROUP TO MEET

"Happy New Year!" It may be a day late, but that's what Santa Ana Ebell third household economics section members will be saying Thursday when they meet for a 1 o'clock luncheon in Ebell clubhouse.

Mesdames D. F. Cook, Ben B. Kellogg and Amos Cox will hostess for the day.

Roll call will be responded to with current events. A program is planned.

WHITFORD HALLS TO PRESENT PROGRAM FOR MUSICAL ARTS

Mr. and Mrs. Whitford Hall will entertain the Musical Arts club with a program on music at the luncheon meeting Friday noon in the James cafe.

The Halls, recent additions to Santa Ana's musical circles, are to tell of the work of a splendid choir in their alma mater.

GUEST LEAVES FOR PASADENA; TO RETURN

Mrs. Lou Westervelt, who has been spending the past two months visiting Mrs. J. Fred Reyer, 2324 North Broadway, left yesterday to return to Pasadena.

Mrs. Westervelt plans to settle her business affairs in Pasadena and return very soon to locate permanently in Santa Ana.

STOCK MARKET RINGS OUT OLD YEAR

By VICTOR EUBANK
NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—The stock market held a parting bull-fish celebration for the old year today.

Taking the air, oil and specialties in hand, traders lifted their favorites 1 to 2 or more points despite considerable profit taking which appeared from time to time.

There were several new six-year highs recorded.

The activity was most pronounced in the first hour when the ticker tape dropped behind a minute or so.

Douglas Aircraft got up about 4 points and Wright Aeronautical 5. Boeing, Sperry, United Aircraft, Standard Oil of New Jersey and California, Seaboard Oil, U. S. Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Kennecott, General Motors, Chrysler, Louisville and Nashville and Santa Fe were lesser gainers. Most utilities, rails and steels were narrow.

Brokers pointed out that the turn of the year, with the delivery of the President's annual message to Congress, the possibility of early Supreme Court decisions, and the freeing of industry generally from the holiday influence, should give a clearer picture of the real market trend.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—The stock market today shuffled off the old year to the pleasing music of sporting prices.

Aircraft and other industrial specialties absorbed trading attention for gains of 1 to 4 or more points. The close was strong. Transfers approximated 2,500,000 shares. Closing prices:

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Big export purchases of Canadian wheat estimated as totaling 3,000,000 bushels in 36 hours, gave new strength to wheat values today.

Talk was current that the Canadian government wheat board has disposed of more of its holdings than was generally expected. It was asserted that European continental countries have bought Canadian wheat as far ahead as May.

Wheat closed firm, 5¢ to 1 cent above above yesterday's finish, May 1.01 1/2-1.01 1/2, 1.02 1/2, 1.03 1/2, 1.04 1/2, 1.05 1/2, 1.06 1/2, 1.07 1/2, 1.08 1/2, 1.09 1/2, 1.10 1/2, 1.11 1/2, 1.12 1/2, gun which fired the shot that killed Lee Farnsworth was never in the possession of the defendant.
"I will now prove that it has been in the custody of another person. I will call Jake Sampson."
There was a commotion at the door, then two deputies appeared, a small man between them. He was forced to his place on the stand and sworn in.
"Your name," snapped Kellogg, "Jake Sampson."
"That's him," the man declared. "You're excused, Sampson," said Kellogg, "unless the district attorney wants you."
Anne glanced at the district attorney. He wore a baffled look, and shook his head, at which sign Sampson scurried from the room.
"I will now call Charlie White Deer."
The squat figure of a chinook was brought in. The man, visibly frightened, shrank from the quick gaze of eyes from every part of the courtroom.
"White Deer," began Kellogg kindly, "where were you on the night of August 3rd?"
"At... at bootleg fish trap."
"Were you alone?"
"Yes."
"Did you see the defendant; see this young lady?" He pointed to Anne. The answer was "yes."
"Did you see her fire a shot at Lee Farnsworth, the man who was killed?"
Surprisingly, there was no objection from the district attorney. He was listening avidly.
"No," said the Indian emphatically.
"Could you have seen her do it? I mean where was your boat in relation to hers?"

RICH MEN DON'T LIKE PARKS

THE CASE of The People vs. The Favored Few always gets a hearing when the subject of parks and playgrounds is uppermost.

Members of the city council, earnest and sincere as they are, find difficulty shaking off the influence of The Favored Few and their mouthpieces. Rich men do not care for parks and are usually brazen enough to say so. They have their own parks around their homes or at a distant country club where they spend many times as much as a tax-supported public park would cost them. They do not care to mingle with the ordinary man and his family. Picnic dinners and fun for the kiddies mean little to them as long as their own pleasures are taken care of. So, why should they pay taxes to provide a park for the less fortunate?

Members of the city council were all in favor of a park last week. They submitted blanks for a straw vote at a combined meeting of service clubs. Ninety-eight votes were cast and eighty-eight favored acquiring the site at West Washington and Flower streets. They were ready to use the fund accumulated through earnings of the city water department and other revenue-producing agencies, so the poor man and his family might enjoy some of the profits instead of seeing them dissipated elsewhere.

Then the chronic calamity howlers heard about it—the unhappy men whose wealth has made them miserable because they think they have to lie awake nights to keep themselves from being robbed—robbed of the money they spend on themselves for personal pleasures. So the fear of the stuffed shirts was thrown into the hearts of city councilmen.

It is easy to think of a dozen reasons why the city shouldn't have a park, we suppose. It is always easy to oppose anything and everything in the line of progress. It is easy to think of all the needs there are for money. Easy to say we don't need a park because most of us have automobiles and can drive to Anaheim and sponge off of that progressive city, which has one of the best parks in the Southland and is now building another.

But the real, unvarnished truth is, the council is listening, willingly or not, to the little group of wire pullers who have no sympathy with the rank and file of the people, do not know the needs of the people and won't listen for fear they will find out.

FOOLISH ALIBIS

WHY is it that men as smart as Sheriff Logan Jackson and District Attorney W. F. Menton try to fool the public with small town alibis?

Yesterday The Journal received a news dispatch from Los Angeles saying grand jury investigators there told the grand jury foreman that some of the big gamblers had moved to Seal Beach and that a widely known joint was operating in the rear of a Seal Beach cafe.

When asked what he knew about it, Sheriff Jackson expressed the utmost surprise, said he had never heard of it and promised an immediate investigation. Sheriff Jackson knows very well he has heard of the place for a long time. Only last Saturday he asked a Journal reporter if the reporter could get him some admission tickets to the club so he could get inside and obtain evidence. If he had told The Journal yesterday that he had heard repeatedly of the resort and hadn't been able to get enough evidence to make a raid or obtain a conviction, The Journal as well as the public would have believed him.

The same is true of Mr. Menton. All law enforcement officers have heard of the year-around "open house" Seal Beach is supposed to conduct. The Journal has no evidence, but its editors, who have been here scarcely long enough to find their way about, are thoroughly acquainted with the widely circulated reports about Orange county's asserted Monte Carlo.

The gamblers are smart and it isn't always easy to catch them, but for the sheriff and district attorney to say they have never heard of their operations, is trifling with public confidence.

TOWNSEND PARTY

DR. FRANCIS E. TOWNSEND'S announcement that perhaps his movement won't have to sponsor a political party is an item of interest to those who have studied the history of the third-party movement in national politics.

The threat of a Townsend third party is a potent one. A full slate of candidates would magnify by many dimensions the consternation of the Michigan old-party henchmen who saw a Republican endorse the Townsend plan and sail into office.

The father of the pension movement says, however, that perhaps one or the other of the old parties may be persuaded to adopt the Townsend plan as a substantial plank in its platform; and in that case the need for a party would be eliminated.

Establishment of a third party has rarely put a candidate in office; the party may survive for a number of years, but eventually it usually dies, either from attainment of its objective or by adoption of its principle by one of the major organizations.

In either case its end is served. A major party is much better equipped to carry on a campaign; and chances for success of the minority movement are much better in this way.

If that may be the destiny of the Townsend movement, we await with interest the scramble between Republicans and Democrats to see which can adopt the pension plan most diplomatically.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

James Thurber has become the town's literary surprise, with two best selling books in a row. Each was a collection of hastily written sketches and amusing-looking drawings he had turned out for a weekly magazine. Separately they seemed trivial, but lumped together, a riot.

O. O. McIntyre

Beneath the frou-frou of his gaities, the critics have discovered the cold blooded dissembler, a blithe destroyer of illusions. Late Bell in a critique, believes Thurber is intent on pulverizing the human race. Still another reviewer alliterates: "A fiendish flayer of fumbles."

Noteworthy in his salty rubaiyats is his flair for recollections of boyhood, his Aunt Ida and her "Law me, pop!" and his grandpop out in Columbus, O. He makes them a three ring circus. As he observes: "You see I am a rememberer, an analyzer. I have a pocketful of old used years."

Thurber's caprices do not center altogether on his skits and sketches. He is a rousing spirit in the cafes, where he lends himself to the warming gesture of applying the "hot foot" as well as giving a yank, en passant, to the occasional bright beard of a serious thinker.

Memories: When money was called "cush." Silk shirts with a swish. Cameras with black hoods. First shaving mug for the barber shop shelf. The calling card saucer on the hall table. That taste after smoking a section of an old buggy whip. Shoulder braces. Horse shoe nail nut picks. Slicking up patent leather shoes on the dewy grass before ringing her bell. The clean apron under the stairs for answering the front door. Drying walnuts on the coal shed roof. Spending the Sunday school penny. Free perfumed cards from the drug store. Leather knee pads. Getting five ships from a stone on the mill pond.

Robert Louis Stevenson, the legend goes, wrote his choicest stuff during the eight years he was tortured by continuous headache. Conrad's most remembered descriptions were turned out by note from Woonsocket, R. I. Ellis has authored more than 30 novels during life in a wheel chair and with vision almost faded. Indeed the history of fine literature seems an almost solid background of pain. I thought of these things today upon receiving a despairing note from Woonsocket, R. I. moaning: "I am in the midst of a short story I know will sell. Yet I awakened today to a squalling brat in the room above and a howling dog in the yard next door. And I have a tooth that is beginning to twinge."

Clara Bell Walsh's Skippy recently departed for a caper in Elysia. Skippy was one of the celebrated dogs of the avenue, a button-eyed midget Sealham with comic whiskers and the grand and grave manners of a patriarch. He had no truck with anyone save his mistress and her chauffeur, but he sat up in bored dignity for all who approached. His concluding year was spent in catarracted blackness but his head arched high. He crossed the finish line a thoroughbred.

A summer evening a few years ago, my wife and I halted in a minor journey at the serene German village of Eisenach, where Napoleon was almost betrayed in his retreat from Moscow, to visit the home of Johann Bach, see the collection of musical instruments upon which he and his 20 children played and the organ in the church across the way where he was so long organist. Our self-appointed cicerone was a townsman who spoke English and had played in a Roxy orchestra in New York. Homelessness had overwhelmed him. But as our car moved off he said: "Some day I may see you again, for I am going back." In Luchow's the other evening a waiter, after serving our order, hesitated, indulged in a few nervous sips of dishes on the table, and finally observed: "Well, I'm back!" The musician of Eisenach!

Broadway's most logical historian for the past decade is Gene Buck. So much so publishers are angling for his memoirs. As a song writer, fashioner of revue skits and side-de-canys to Ziegfeld, he was behind the scenes in that fabulous era. And he looked on with the calm poise of a teetotaler. Should he tell all, my my!

They came out of one of those saucily awninged snack bars near the Pennsylvania station in the rosy flush of a few just-one-mores. Teetering on the curb, one urged: "Hurry up or we'll miss the next train to Roslyn." Replied No. 2, flexing his arms: "You can sit on a silly train. I'm turning hand-springs to Flushing and cart-wheeling on from there!"

I hope Europe finally may see the typical American as the man who lives on the sunny side of Main street, instead of the one who lives on the shady side of Broadway.—Ruth Bryan Owen, minister to Denmark.

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

MERRY-GO-ROUND ROLL OF HONOR 1935

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 31.—The Man of the Year—Emperor Haile Selassie. Because he has kept at a bay one of the major powers of Europe; has conducted his diplomacy with more skill than most statesmen in Geneva; has shown bravery under fire; and has welded a scattering of heterogeneous nomad tribes into a homogeneous country which has won the sympathy of the world.

The Washington Diplomat of the Year—Ambassador Augusto Rosis of Italy. Because, working against overwhelming obstacles, he has set a standard of highest personal integrity and won widespread popularity.

The Cabinet Member of the Year—Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture. Because he has given the farmer a boost up the economic ladder for the first time since the war, has done it without too much argument, and has won for his chief in the White House the support of the politically important farm belt.

The Senator of the Year—Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. Because he put through the holding company act, the regulation of trucks and buses, the railroad pension act, and the investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company; not that this means necessarily endorsement of those acts, but they represent momentous changes in our economic life and were passed only after epochal legislative battles.

The Congressman of the Year—Maurice Maverick of Texas. Because of his consistent campaign for freedom of speech, freedom of the press and to keep this country out of war.

The Woman of the Year—Miss Dorothy Detzer, of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. Because of her investigation of the senate munitions investigation and of the neutrality act passed in the closing days of the last congress.

MUSSOLINI AND PEACE One consideration to keep in mind regarding the prospects for peace or war in Europe is that Mussolini now knows he will get next to nothing unless he conquers the whole of Ethiopia.

This follows because no other peace plan even remotely acceptable to Mussolini is going to come from the league. Having vetoed the Hoare-Laval peace proposal with such resounding disapproval, the league will not now grant Mussolini even the compromise plan for an Ethiopian protectorate which was put forward last summer.

Mussolini is now on the toughest spot of his entire life. He has got to surrender or fight it out. And the chances are that in fighting it out, almost certainly he will pull in the rest of Europe.

HARRY HOPKINS

Harry Hopkins got off the train at Terre Haute, Ind., the other day to stretch his legs. He was en route to St. Louis to deliver a speech. On the station platform a woman approached.

"Aren't you Mr. Harry Hopkins?" she said. "Well, my husband and I are both college graduates, and we're on relief. But my husband has been unable to get a white collar job, because there's so much red tape in your organization."

Hopkins cleared his throat. "That may very well be true," he said. "Let's have the facts, and I'll look into it."

He took notes on the case, said he was sorry, and got on the train again. At St. Louis, he got his Washington office on the long distance phone, dictated the facts, and ordered a special investigation.

And now the woman of Terre Haute is relieved. She says: "I'm so glad I had the courage to speak to him. I recognized him from his pictures in the newspapers."

LEFT-WING SECRECY

Some secret pow-wows recently held by Progressive leaders have aroused a lot of curiosity in both Republican and Democratic ranks. In fact, to use the word "curiosity" is to put it mildly. Old party leaders have been eaten up with desire to know what went on during the following meetings:

A secret three-hour conference in New York between Mayor LaGuardia, Senator Bob LaFollette and his brother Phil, governor of Wisconsin. When news of the meeting leaked out 10 days later, all three declined to intimate what they were discussing.

A secret conference between Mayor LaGuardia and Gifford Pinchot, ex-governor of Pennsylvania.

A meeting of Wisconsin Progressives, Socialists, Farmer-Laborites and other left wing forces in Milwaukee, at which a united front organization was agreed upon.

In addition to these, Democratic and Republican leaders considered significant the letter sent by Floyd Olson, Farmer-Labor governor of Minnesota, urging liberal and left-wing leaders throughout the country to combine against "reaction and fascism."

Also they are keeping their eyes on plans of insurgent chiefs for a meeting sometime in January.

Most of the old party politicians doubt that these maneuvers are aimed at a third party in 1936. They know that Olson, LaFollette and LaGuardia are too shrewd to launch such a move before the time is ripe.

Furthermore, most of the left-wingers are for Roosevelt, in the last analysis. At times they criticize him bitterly, claim he is timid and vacillating. But most of them believe his defeat would be a serious blow to liberalism.

Some of the curious ones think this may be the clue to the behind-the-scenes activity of the Progressives. Perhaps they are preparing to launch a united-front organization next spring to support Roosevelt in 1936.

MAIL BAG

M. B., New York City—Illustrations used in Herbert Agar's "Land of the Free" are from Public Works of Art, not the new work progress projects. Officials explain such use is allowable in private printing when the effect is to explain what the government is doing. . . . F. F. H., Pittsburgh—The President has declined to comment on the departure of the Lindberghs. The question put to him at press conference was, "Do you think crime has gotten so bad that it is no longer safe to live in this country?" He asked not to be quoted in answer.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

DEC. 31, 1910

District Attorney and Mrs. S. M. Davis entertained at dinner last evening, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, Dr. and Mrs. P. R. Reynolds, Dr. and Mrs. John Wehrly, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Nealey, Mrs. Addison Cole, and Mrs. H. P. Keith. After dinner, some informal games of Pedro were enjoyed.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Medlock were hosts at a charmingly appointed dinner at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening. Besides the hosts and their daughter, Miss Velda Medlock, covers were laid for Messrs. and Mesdames Mit Phillips, Harry Dean, E. B. Burns, T. A. Winigler and Clarence Gustlin. Music and conversation pleasantly passed the remainder of the evening.

Misses Mary and Nina Andrews, Edwina Collins, Lula Finley, Mary and Fannie Smart went to Balboa today to remain until after New Year's.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac O. Robbins were hosts yesterday at a pleasant luncheon, their guests being Misses Gladys Freeman, Sallie Catland and Edna Robbins.

There is no better barometer of progress than the building permits issued by the city building inspector, and those issued by City Building Inspector Roper show that Santa Ana has kept in step with the rest of the Southern California cities in the march of progress. During December, 38 permits were issued calling for an expenditure of $25,912. The aggregate of building operations for the year totaled $444,956 as compared with a total of $353,101 last year.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

The Radio Looms as Brotherhood's Savior

KING GEORGE sends Christmas greetings to all parts of the empire, and that means into every part of the globe. British polar expeditions, both at the top and the bottom of the earth, hear the royal voice.

Dominions, colonies, mandates, settlements everywhere turn in allegiance to their sovereign. History gives no such powerful demonstration of the invisible ties which bind far-flung peoples in a common destiny.

No other ruler anywhere can boast such loyalty. Nowhere, outside the British world, do loyalty and reverence and community of interest take the place of force, authority and armed control.

"Good will among men," has made immeasurable strides in the century and a half between George III and George V. In all probability there will never be another war of independence among the British family of nations. And never again a Boer war of subjugation.

Nations are learning that military conquests are useless. That people cannot be bound together with bands of steel. That mutual interests are more than the mailed fist. Anglo-Saxons have learned this everlasting truth, after centuries of bitter experience.

Lemon Juice

Howdy, folks! That horrible odor you smell these days is not from brush fires. It's merely Joe Bungstarter smoking one of the cigars his wife gave him for Christmas.

The true test of love is when a man watches a girl sharpen a pencil and doesn't laugh.

Goody! Goody! We have just discovered that the electric egg-boiler Aunt Aggie gave us for Christmas is not a percolator—it's an automatic toaster!

REWARD! DEAD OR ALIVE One dollar and a quarter will be paid for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of Rudolph Angletworm, who has been proclaimed a public nuisance. Angletworm is the merry war who, at parties insists upon giving imitations of Mae West.

Joe Bungstarter says that his Great-Uncle Abner was accidentally killed in Montana in 1886, when an ace of spades fell out of his sleeve.

PEOPLE WE COULD DO WITHOUT Radio tenors who sing "Isle of Capri." Radio tenors who sing "Sonny Boy." Radio tenors who sing "That Silver-haired Daddy of Mine." Radio tenors.

YE DIARY Earlie to bed, but do awake at the hour of midnight, mighty hungry, and so up and to the icebox, where find a noble slice of mince pie, and I might merrie, but not so merrie when I do step in my bare feet on a Christmas tree decoration. And so back to bed.

Ouch!

Remarkable Remarks

President Roosevelt still has six billion dollars to spend. The date of the bubble bursting will depend on how much of that amount is left at the end of his term.—John T. Flynn, economist and writer.

If I were the Republican party my slogan would be "Save the New Deal from its Friends."—William Allen White, Kansas editor.

The little red schoolhouse was a milestone in education, but now it is a milestone around its neck.—C. O. Williams, executive National Education Association.

Been receiving a number of "open house" invitations for New Year's. Hope they leave the doors ajar when I leave as well as when I arrive. Remember away back when New Year's day was the big-time event? Those were the days of the top-hats, when the elite of the town held "open-house" and the proletariat looked with awe at the town high-brows. Looking back over those experiences I am now convinced that the aristocracy was indebted to many of those who were refused or failed to call. I've gotten over that amazement which the "prominent citizen" in my day created, and he is now accepted as just another inhabitant who sometimes hasn't his club dues paid, or meets his obligations in other respects. It's sort of a wholesome sometimes to become an iconoclast, and take the hide off of hypocrisy.

Oh, well, what's the difference about these New Year's. They are only what you make out of them. There is a thrill about waiting for the sirens or the bells or the horns or whistles, to announce the New Year, but it seems a little incongruous because at the same time we announce the death of the old one, and I can't see why you should celebrate a funeral unless you happened to be the beneficiary of an insurance policy.

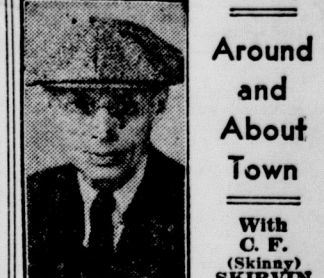

The girls will probably welcome the New Year as it opens up a larger opportunity to make a matrimonial proposition, being leap year, but even that custom has become antique with modern youth. Course there are a few who are unable to qualify for the youth movement. However, as peculiar and bad as America is it's still good, and it's my country, including Decatur, Paul Jones, George Washington, Four Roses, and all the other fragrance which goes to make up the New Year.

Happy New Year.

Wanted to say that I am glad to hear that you are all well and happy. I hope you will have a very successful and happy New Year. I am glad to hear that you are all well and happy. I hope you will have a very successful and happy New Year.

Happy New Year.

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

HAPPY NEW YEAR. Won't be long now before the bells will be a-ringing, horns a-tootin', guns a-shootin', and hell a-poppin', all because we are just getting rid of one year so we can welcome another. I understand this cycle system has been in vogue for a long time—changing one year for another. We soon tire of an old friend only to usher in a stranger with whom we have no acquaintance, or know whether he is going to bring joy or sorrow.

We think of the passing year as an ugly dream and hope for something better, when in fact the year has probably been as kind to us as many of its predecessors, and we never stop to think about whether we have been kind to the year. Our blasphemy is so astounding that we are running over with anathema, and unload our denunciation on the calendar, but never stop to pick out the special month which has been so bad to us. We are just a bubbling spec with a random ink in our make-up, and got to get it out of our system so as to lower the blood pressure on something.

So when you start to yellin' about midnight it's just that much excess. You welcome the young fellow who becomes an adult faster than any other individual in the world, and are ready to kick him into the discard in 12 months. Sometimes these young fellows prove to be fairly good sports, but they have sort of been off schedule for the past few years. Anyway, this little lad with a breech around his middle, promises to be somewhat different from the last three predecessors, because he is going to give us a presidential election for our entertainment.

I'm going to welcome the "kid" with the usual passivity. Been watchin' that lad too long to effervescence over his appearance. Don't invite me to take a ride unless you bring an armored car, and then you got to promise me you won't go to Ethiopia with it. I'm much more comfortable in an automobile, and as an additional protection I've accepted an invitation from a friend to spend the evening with him, and his house sits away back from the street. There are bells on it. One on the door and several inside.

I've never harmonized the New Year with the attitude of the American people. It's a legal holiday and starts with violations. If you do not believe it get out about midnight and try to negotiate an intersection in the downtown area. Visit a night club and take an inventory. After all it's a night of good fellowship, and not a delirious riotousness or death of the old one, and I can't see why you should celebrate a funeral unless you happened to be the beneficiary of an insurance policy.

Happy New Year.
